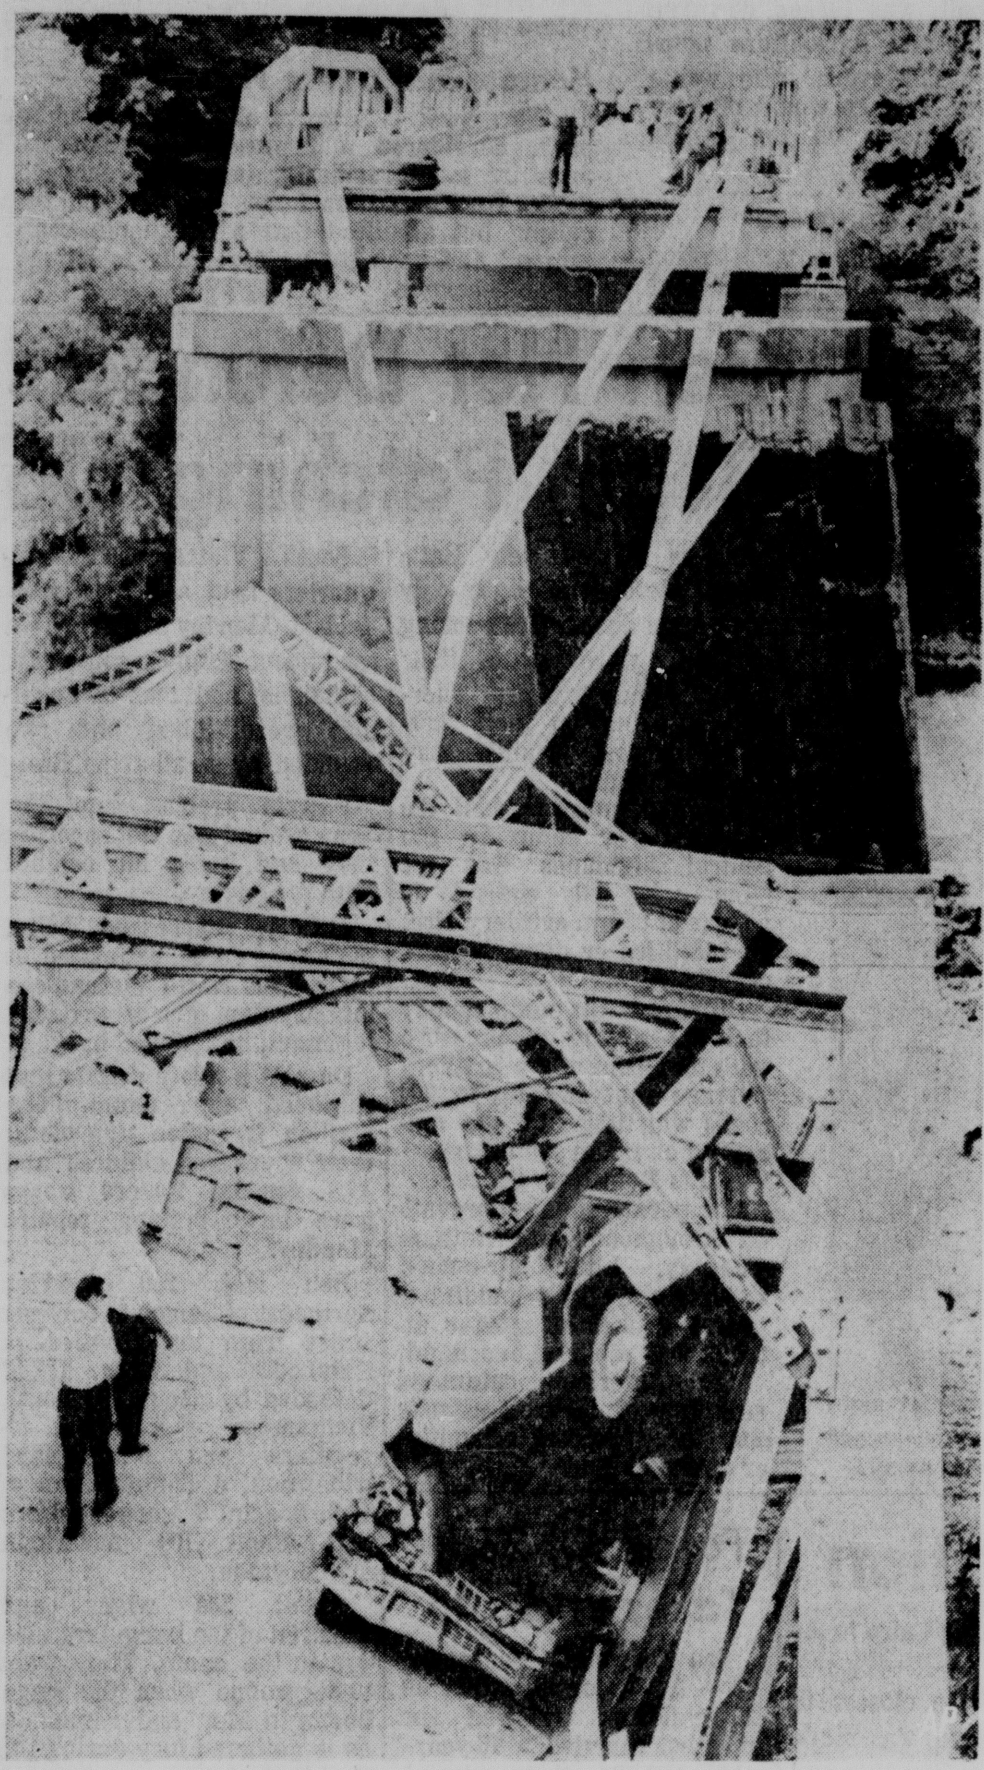
EXTENDED SURTAX OK'D



INJURIES ONLY MINOR

Only minor injuries were reported after several vehicles plunged off a 100-foot steel bridge near Utica, Miss., which had collapsed. The pickup truck landed on top of another vehicle after it went off the bridge.

Tax Reform Action Vowed

. . . HOUSE VOTE 210-205

Washington (AP) — The House passed Monday night, 210 to 205, President Nixon's bill for extension of the income surtax.

The vote followed a high-pressure, last-minute drive by the administration and leaders of both parties. All promised quick action on tax reform. a major goal of opponents of the surtax measure.

Nixon said "a far-reaching tax reform bill" before the House this summer is the goal of the administration as well as the House Ways and Means Committee.

However, the bill now goes to the Senate to face a strong move to hold it up while tax reforms are added to it.

The outcome was in doubt until the last stragglers and holdbacks voted in the well of the House' after missing the roll call proper. The count was tied at least 10 times during the half-hour call.

The Democratic chiefs — Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, Democratic leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma and Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, of the Ways and Means Committe — added their voices to those of Nixon and Republican leader Gerald R. Ford in the closing moments.

McCormack noted that Nixon's proposal is essentially the same as that of former President Lyndon B. Johnson. Nixon asked, and the bill provides, that the surtax be continued at 10% through Dec. 31 and then at 5% for another six months.

Speaking of the tax reform measure his committee has August, Mills said, "We are going to bring in a bullet that may be a little to hot for you to bite, but we will ask you to bite it anyway

Republicans voted 154 for the bill, 26 against, while 56 Democrats were for the extension and 179 against. Last year, only 114 Republicans voted for the surtax when Johnson originally proposed it.

The leaders of both parties contended the extension is needed to prevent runaway inflation. But opponents argued that meaningful tax reforms must accompany the extension lest the opportunity for such reforms be lost for an indefinite time.

The bill written has three main provisions in addition to the surtax extension.

—One would repeal the investment credit that allows businesses to recover up to seven per cent of their investment in equipment.

—Another provision would create a special allowance to reduce federal income taxes paid by persons in the lowest income brackets.

—The bill also would postpone for year reductions scheduled to begin Jan. 1 in the excise taxes on automobiles and telephone service.

Crucial Decisions Still Face Solons

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Everything from corporation farming to wire tapping — plus the showdown decisions on budgeting, spending and taxing — await the Legislature when it returns from a week-long holiday recess next Monday.

The marathon 1969 session will launch its 119th day with 175 bills still resting at the initial stage of floor debate.

Among them are a host of major policy proposals and big spending requests.

Although lawmakers have enacted the operational budget bill, the crucial budgeting decisions lie ahead for they are the determinations which will dictate increases in sales and income tax rates.

The chief revenue proposals include extending the sales tax to a host of services, and a plan to lock the sales and income tax rates together so each will rise proportionately to the other.

A homestead tax exemption bill also awaits first debate. Its cost has been pegged at $4.5 million a year.

Among pending bills which would increase required appropriations from the general fund, LB286 has the largest apparent impact.

That proposal, which is pocketed at the second stage of floor consideration along with a number of other spending measures, would transfer from the counties to the state the financial responsibility for mental patient care costs.

Its enactment would require a general fund appropriation estimated at $25,112,047, a figure equivalent to a one-half percent sales tax.

Aid For Retarded

Also setting at the second level are bills like LB855, proposing state aid for community care facilities for the mentally retarded which, if funded as proposed, would cost $2,135,359 and LB1280, making an additional $1,476,470 to boost state aid to junior colleges.

Back at the first floor stage are spending proposals to expand medicaid coverage, provide state aid for nursing schools, established a state vocational technical school in Omaha, provide state aid for police and fire salaries and build an underground tunnel from the Statehouse to the new state office building.

A host of major highway bills are yet to be debated, among them proposals to classify all roads and streets in the state, establish minimum construction and maintenance standards, and alter the formula for distribution of highway user revenue to funnel more funds into the cities.

Fuel Tax Hike

Highway revenue proposals include a one-cent per gallon increase in motor fuels taxes and hike in motor vehicle registration fees.

A new method of taxing motor vehicles also awaits initial debate.

Two more proposed constitutional amendments are poised for discussion, along with an amendment which would propose a third constitutional change.

Eight proposed amendments have already won their way to the 1970 general election ballot, and seven more await final reading consideration.

Other Top Bills

Among other major bills which are yet to be considered on the floor are measures to adopt a comprehensive new corrections code, punish teachers for work stoppages, establish a statewide system of community colleges, create natural resource districts throughout the state, and establish health service regions.

Stuck at the second plateau are other major proposals like the open housing act, a state ombudsman and a law enforcement training center.

Nebraska's 49 senators will not lack for difficult issues when they return to work, aiming wistfully for final adjournment sometime in August.

Argentina In State Of Siege After Union Leader Is Killed

Buenos Aires (AP) — The Argentine government declared a nationwide state of siege Monday night in an effort to stem an increasing tide of antigovernment terrorism and labor unrest that reached a violent climax on Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's visit.

The announcement came after the assassination of one of the nation's most powerful labor leaders — 44-year-old Augusto Vandor — and a call for a nationwide strike by his 180,000-member steelworkers' union.

Vandor led the moderate wing of the General Labor Confederation and had opposed a move for a general strike to protest Rockefeller's visit.

The labor leader was gunned down Monday by unidentified terrorists in his downtown office while the New York governor, here on the fourth stage of his violence-torn Latin-American tour for President Nixon, chatted in the pink government house with President Juan Carlos Ongania.

Vandor apparently was the victim of political turmoil that has caused 22 deaths in this prosperous nation since May 15.

Steel union officials, in an emergency meeting, asked the membership to halt work for 15 minutes Tuesday in a gesture of mourning. They also called for a 24-hour nationwide strike of steel workers on Wednesday, the day of Vandor's funeral.

Rockefeller was to leave Argentina for Haiti early Tuesday.

After Vandors slaying, President Ongania called a meeting of the national security council, made up of cabinet members and the nation's military chiefs.

Vandor was slain by four men described as young and well-dressed who drove up to union headquarters and identified themselves as police.

State To Take Claims Against 5 Drug Firms

The Nebraska attorney general's office Monday said it would begin accepting claims against five drug companies convicted of a price-fixing conspiracy.

Nebraska is expected to get about $690,000 of a $100 million settlement agreed to by the companies, according to Assistant Atty. Gen. Calvin E. Robinson.

Robinson said notice had been sent to cities and counties advising them that the attorney general's office would handle their claims unless they choose to act on their own.

Notices Planned

He said the agency also will represent individual consumers who file claims. The U.S. District Court at New York City will soon publish notices on the procedures for filing such claims in all Nebraska newspapers, he said.

Robinsin said nearly all 50 states were parties to the action against the five drug makers — Charles Pfizer & Co., Inc.; American Cyanamid Co.; Bristol-Meyers Co.; Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp., and the Upjohn Co.

The drugs involved were Aureomycin, Terramycin and Tettracycline. The price fixing for which the firms were convicted occurred between 1954 and 1966.

Only Human Drugs

Robinson said the settlement involved only drugs consumed by humans and did not include similar preparations used to control infectious diseases in animals.

Nationally, 50% of the $100 million settlement is expected to go to hospitals, 37% to individual consumers and 10% to welfare agencies, Robinson said. He could not estimate how Nebraska's share would be divided.

The remaining 3% nationally would go for legal fees, but he said Nebraska would try to avoid such payments within the state.

City Council To Favor More Flexible Zoning

The Lincoln City Council will be looking more favorably at zoning changes for commercial developments than did the old council.

Four members on the City Council including all three new councilmen announced at the close of the council session Monday that they want to see more flexibility in the city's zoning policies.

The four — Bill Davidson, Merle Hale, Harry (Pete) Peterson, and Dick Hartsock — said that zoning policies have been too strict, especially with respect to the vicinity of 70th and O Sts.

Shift Evident

The shift toward a more flexible approach to zoning became evident when a change of zone from A-1 Single Family to G Local Business at 70th and O Sts. was approved 4-2 Monday.

The change had been requested by Robert Weigel, who said he wants to build a "Polynesian Village" on the southwest corner of the intersection.

A lively discussion on zoning occured when council members Mrs. Helen Boosalis and Tom Allman—who voted against the change of zone—asked the new council members why they voted for the change of zone.

Specialty Items

Weisel said that the development—to cost more than $1 million—would consist of a "Polynesian" restaurant, a drug store, and specialty stores that would sell items not now sold in Lincoln.

Planning Director Douglas Brogden and the planning commission had recommended denial of the zoning change, saying it constituted spot zoning and would open the door to further commercial zoning in the residentially zoned area.

Weigel argued that the council has already approved commercial zoning in the general area and cited the Gateway Shopping Center and the proposed Sears building as examples.

Have Been Opposed

Commercial developments along O St. have been opposed by the council in the past on the grounds that they do not reflect the proposed growth of the city according to the comprehensive plan for community development.

Weigel had earlier been turned down for G Local Business zoning on property adjacent to the proposed "Polynseian Village." The earlier proposal asked a change so that a medical complex could be built.

The four council members voting for the change of zone said they agreed that the area should be developed for commercial businesses.

'More Complaints'

"I heard more complaints about the zoning of that area than on anything else during my campaign for office," Councilman Hale said.

Hale said the complaints were that the city should not rigidly oppose any zoning that does not promote residential use of the land.

Hartsock added: "We are not throwing out all zoning."

"The (comprehensive) plan, though, has been to dogmatically administered," he said.

The new councilmen asserted that the growth of the area has been retarded by the dogmatic application of the plan.

Councilman Davidson said, "Residents are not going to put up $35,000 homes along a six-lane highway."

The state plans to widen O St. to make it a six-lane highway.

Those favoring the change said they felt that the election of the new council members —who campaigned for flexibility in zoning—was a sign that the people want a change in zoning policy.

Allman responded that "the public does not always know what is involved" in the zoning of an area.

"They know only what's on the surface — what they hear or read," he claimed.

Police Union Raising Fund To Aid Loder

Omaha (AP) — The Omaha Police Union announced late Monday it had voted unanimously to establish a defense fund for Patrolman James Loder, charged with manslaughter in the shooting death of Vivian Strong, last week.

Union President Robert Bragg said following an 11-hour meeting, attended by 278 members and non-member officers, that the fund was launched with a $1,000 contribution from the union and pledges from citizens of an additional $2,200.

"The fact that the man was suspended and fired is no indictment that he is guilty or not guilty," said Bill K. Bloom, the union's business representative.

"Obviously we do not agree," Bloom said about the manslaughter charge. "This is why we set up the fund."

Bloom said Police Chief Richard Andersen attended the meeting and union officers met with Mayor Eugene Leahy. He said the union will present some specific recommendations on "some of the problems" within the police department within the next several days.

3 Astronauts Practice Major Engine Firings

Cape Kennedy, Fla. (AP) — The Apollo 11 astronauts Monday practiced the three major engine-firing milestones they must pass en route to the moon while the launch crew loaded supercold fuels aboard their spaceship during a countdown test.

Neil A. Armstrong, Air Force Col. Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. and Air Force Lt. Col. Michael Collins spent several hours in the command ship trainer, rehearsing the launching, departure from earth orbit and injection into lunar orbit.

The liftoff of the huge Saturn 5 rocket is scheduled for 8:32 a.m. CDT July 16. The astronauts are to circle the earth for two hours 44 minutes before their third-stage engine restarts to propel them toward the moon, increasing their speed from 17,400 to 24,200 miles an hour.

Apollo 11 will coast toward its distant target for more than three days. At 12:26 p.m. July 19 the astronauts are to fire their spaceship engine to settle into lunar orbit.

While Armstrong, Aldrin and Collins rehearsed these critical maneuvers, launch pad crews loaded liquid hydrogen and liquid oxygen into the spaceship's power-producing fuel cells as the lengthy countdown demonstration test entered its third day.

To maintain liquid states, the oxygen must be kept at 297 degrees below zero Fahrenheit and the hydrogen at 423 below. They are combined in the fuel cells to produce electricity to run Apollo 11 systems, with a byproduct of drinking water for the astronauts.

The test is to conclude Thursday with the astronauts entering the spaceship to participate in the final hours of a countdown and a mock launching.

Tuesday they will work out in two trainers — Armstrong and Aldrin in the lunar module, Collins alone in the command ship. They are to practice the lunar landing and takeoff sequence.

Washington (AP) — Bonny, the monkey astronaut launched last Saturday into orbit around the earth, dreamed dreams early Monday during his second night in space, experts monitoring the flight reported.

Ben Het Defenders Begin Patching Up

Saigon (AP) — Ben Het's weary defenders, with only occasional enemy fire pecking at them, were out of their underground bunkers Tuesday patching up their battered outpost against any fresh onslaught.

U.S. headquarters said the Green Beret camp in the central highlands was hit Monday by only eight to 10 rounds of 85mm artillery fire. No fatalities or damage were reported.

Officers at the camp clearly feel the easing of pressure with the lifting of the artillery barrage that saw up to 200 shells whistling into the embattled camp on some days.

It's Relatively Quiet

Comparative quiet prevailed throughout South vietnam Tuesday. Little ground fighting and only a handful of enemy rocket or mortar attacks was reported overnight.

The American command said that of 15 such attacks only three caused casualties or damage.

South Vietnamese headquarters said a bus was attacked Monday night on a raod about 80 miles southwest of Saigon, and that two civilians were killed and two wounded by small-arms fire.

Patrols probing into the area around Ben Het reported they had made no contact with the enemy.

Officers expressed belief the enemy force, estimated at up to 3,000 North Vietnamese infantrymen, plus an artillery regiment, had moved back.

Despite a misty drizzle that shrouded the camp, the civilian irregular defenders, their wives and children and U.S. Special Forces troops were busy making repairs Monday.

Ben Het, 280 miles northeast of Saigon is only six miles from the frontier of Cambodia and Laos. It is defended by about 700 South Vietnamese civilian irregulars and Montagnard tribesmen, a 12-man team of U.S. Special Forces advisers and about 100 American artillerymen.

About 200 wives and children of the irregulars also are in the camp. They went underground when the siege began in May and remained as is gathered fury during the past two weeks.

U.S. military analysts said the enemy may have been badly hurt by the tons of bombs and artillery shells that churned up a ring of raw earth around the outpost. They added, however, that the Communist command also may have called its troops back for replacements and new equipment to attack again.

Nigeria Cuts Chances Of Biafrans' Survival

© The New York Times

Lagos — The Nigerian government drastically lessened Monday the chances of renewed relief shipments to rebel Biafra, where hundreds of thousands of civilians are reportedly facing malnutrition or starvation.

In an official statement, the government relieved the International Committee of the Red Cross, a Swiss organization, of responsibility for coordinating relief efforts on both sides of the lines in the two-year-old civil war.

From now on, the government added, it will oversee the entire relief program itself, with outside agencies playing a sharply reduced role.

The statement also said all shipments to Biafra, "whether by air, sea, river or land, must be cleared by the armed forces and police after thorough inspection in Lagos or other approved points in federal areas."

Thus the Red Cross airlift from Cotonou, Dahomey, and Santa Isabel, Equatorial Guinea, and the Joint Church Aid airlift from the Portuguese island of Sao Tome in the Gulf of Guinea, are banned under this new ruling. Until suspended this month after the shooting down of a Swedish Red Cross DC6, the flights had taken as much as 300 tons of food and medicine into Biafra each night.

Although the statement, read to officials of international relief organizations by Anthony Enahoro, federal information and labor minister, did not specifically mention the American proposal for a river supply route, the insistence on military inspection of all cargoes appeared to doom that plan as well.

The Biafrans have refused to accept any proposal that made them dependent on the federal government, arguing that their security would be jeopardized.

Hoax Stops Royal Train

Caernarvon, Wales (AP) — Two men died in an explosion in a Welsh town early Tuesday and a bomb hoax stopped the royal train carrying Prince Charles only hours before his investiture as prince of Wales in a pageant of medieval splendor.

The separate incidents intensified the jittery atmosphere in this fortress town, preparing for a 700-year-old ceremony.

Threats of bomb attacks by extremist Welsh nationalists opposing the investiture had dictated tightest possible security precautions.

Shortly after midnight in Abergele, 46 miles northeast of here, police said, two men died in an attempt to blow up local government offices here.

Meanwhile, the royal train carrying Charles, Queen Elizabeth II and most of the royal family, was halted for 50 minutes while police checked what appeared to be a bomb found under a railroad bridge further ahead on the train route. It was discovered to be a dummy.

Arabs Told To Expect Retaliation

Tel Aviv (AP) — Israeli jets strafed and bombed guerrilla positions inside Jordan south of the Sea of Galilee Monday following an early morning sabotage blast in Tel Aviv which injured 10 persons.

In Jerusalem, Prime Minister Golda Meir warned that those who attack Israel "should not be surprised if they are hit sevenfold in response."

"Anybody who fails to honor the cease-fire agreement and shoots at us, cannot claim immunity from the results of his aggression," she told parliament. "Arab leaders should make a correct appraisal of what their aggression achieves and our inevitable reply. They should realize the suffering they are inflicting on their own people."

More than 100 pounds of explosives packed into a stolen jeep detonated with a roar close to Tel Aviv's main street. Defense Minister Moshe Dayan visited the area and spoke to the injured in a hospital while staying up late to hear news of Israel's deepest commando raid into Egypt since the 1967 war.

The Israeli army announced the commandoes destroyed a 500-kilowatt high tension power line linking Cairo to the Aswan Dam.

The attack, the closest to Cairo yet reported, was made on Suhaj, west of the Nile and 130 miles south of the Egyptian capital. The Israelis said all their troops returned safely.

In Cairo, the Egyptian government categorically denied any such raid had taken place. An Egyptian spokesman said electric power was not cut in Cairo during the night.

Hardin Says Import Quotas On Meat Not Needed Now

Washington (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin announced Monday that action by President Nixon to invoke meat import quotas for 1969 is not necessary at this time.

He said the third quarterly estimate of meat imports into the United States during 1969 remains at the 1,035,000,000-pound level announced in April 1968.

A 1964 law provides that if yearly imports of certain meat — primarily beef and mutton — are estimated to equal or exceed 110% of an adjusted base quota, the president is required to invoke a quota on imports of these meats.

The adjusted base quota for 1969 is 988 million pounds and 110% of that, or 1,086,800,000 pounds, is the amount of estimated imports which would require an imposition of quotas.

Hardin said the third quarter estimate remains unchanged because of continued voluntary restraints on shipments of these meats to the United States by the principal supplying countries.

Miss Strong Is Buried Amid Pleas For Peace

. . . Elder Foster Blames Government 'Giants'

Omaha (UPI) — Fourteen-year-old Vivian Strong, victim of a policeman's bullet which touched off a week of racial strife here, was buried Monday amid pleas by religious leaders to end the violence.

At the same time some of the leaders tacked much of the blame on the white community.

Miss Strong was shot and killed Tuesday night while white policeman James Loder was answering a burglary call. Loder, adopted son of actress Hedy Lamarr, was suspended from the force and charged with manslaughter.

Several persons broke down during Monday's ceremony, held in a chapel not too far from the site of the burning and looting the past few nights. One woman sobbed hysterically, "Jesus, have mercy. Help." throughout much of the service.

Usherettes stood in the aisle and fanned members of the family. The fans bore pictures of Martin Luther King Jr. and John and Robert Kennedy with the inscription "freedom fighters."

The Rev. Joseph Woods, who is also president of the Coordinating Committee for Civil Liberties in Omaha, said the death of Miss Strong was due to "the actions as well as the inactions of police, the City Council, members of the Legislature and citizens of Nebraska.

"If all the so-called Christians and religious people, as well as the non-religious people, would improve their racial actions and feelings . . . this unnecessary and unavoidable action would not have occurred," Woods said.

Nebraska News

Stronger feelings were expressed by State Sen. Edward Danner, only Negro member of Nebraska's Unicameral Legislature. He said the incident marked "another flower cut down in its youth."

"I feel ashamed to stand here today because I tried so hard in my legislative efforts," Danner said. He said he regretted he could not persuade the Legislature to pass an amendment which would have made police more responsible for their actions.

Danner spoke of the "slaying and slaughter" of his people in "this wicked city and state in which we live."

The eulogy was delivered by elder James Foster, in whose chapel the services were held.

Pointing at the coffin, he said, "the giants did this" and "a portion of the city we live in was destroyed because of the giants."

He said the "giants" were those who existed in high places of government and "spiritual wickedness exists within them." He called for a firmer belief in God to help raise the black man to defeat the "giants."

"I'm just a voice crying in the wilderness," he said. "The only thing I've got in my heart is peace, peace, peace."

If Miss Strong could rise from the coffin, he said, she would say: "Don't weep for me, but weep for yourself and your children. I've escaped the rat race that you're in."

Crowds gathered outside the small chapel during the ceremony. A few members of the Black Panthers organization mingled about. There was no outward hint of tension, however.

Mayor Eugene Leahy said at a news conference Monday police were still on extended shifts and the National Guard was to remain on standby alert "as long as necessary to provide peace and order." He said he could give no indication as to how long that might be.

Police Chief Richard Anderson, who also attended the news conference, said a previous complaint against Loder had been registered.

The mayor said he was aware of one previous complaint against Loder in February for "drawing a weapon unnecessarily."

Complaint Checked

Anderson said the complaint was checked and the people involved were answered. He said no action was taken in the form of discipline against the officer.

Anderson, in reply to a question, said a few automatic weapons the police force had were "kept under lock and key" during the height of the rioting.

Leahy said no decision had been made as to when a meeting would be scheduled with militant members of the Negro community. The meeting, which was to have been held Monday morning, was cancelled.

The mayor said the meeting was scheduled "at a time before the riot situation development occurred."

Leahy said no specific steps were being taken to guard against a similar situation other than to "make myself available to listen to grievances and complaints, as I would for any other segment of the community."

There had been speculation that Leahy would attend the funeral of Miss Strong, but he did not.

The death of the young girl touched off a week of unrest which resulted in the burning of buildings valued at $1 million and the arrest of 62 persons.

Monday Shooting

Chief Anderson said there had apparently been no increase in tension over the shooting of a 20-year-old Negro early Monday by a policeman during a chase.

Police said the man, identified as Tommy Latham, was the driver of a car that was chased by police at speeds of over 70 miles an hour. He was struck in the left hip by a bullet after leaving the car and running on foot.

Latman was reported in serious condition at a local hospital.

Threats Over Loder Bond Force Judge Out Of Home

Omaha (AP)—Municipal Judge Walter H. Cropper said Monday he had moved from his house because of threatening letters and telephone calls received in connection with the bond set Wednesday for James Loder, the patrolman charged with manslaughter in the death of Vivian Strong.

Cropper said many persons felt the $500 bond was too low for Loder, who is now on suspension before being fired and is awaiting a preliminary hearing.

"I would do it again if the case came up today," Cropper said.

"Whether he was a policeman or not or whether he was white or not didn't enter into it. The fact was that he had all the essential requirements set out in the law for a low bond."

The judge said the tenseness of the racial situation could not be used as a criterion for fixing is "solely for the purwhich is l'solely for the purpose of assuring the defendant will appear at his hearing."

He cited a U.S. Supreme Court decision that termed bond excessive under the Eighth Amendment that was set for reasons other than to assure a future court appearance.

Manslaughter has the same penalty as burglary and carries a lower penalty than murder, arson, rape, kidnaping, robbery or felonious theft, he said.

GI Demolition Experts Called To Help Secure Site Of Blast

Grand Island (UPI) — Elements of a detachment from the Cornhusker Ordnance Plant here were among the demolition experts summoned to the Nevada desert to help secure the area where three boxcars of bombs exploded Sunday afternoon.

The 750-pound bombs came from the plant at Grand Island and were destined for Concord, Calif.

A plant spokesman said Monday that elements of the 548th ordnance detachment at the plant left for the desert area Sunday evening. The detachment was supplied information on the bombs which would be used so that appropriate safety precautions could be taken.

Late reports indicate the last three cars in the string of 22 were involved in the explosions. At least four persons were injured.

Authorities have sealed off the area because of the threat of further explosions. They said it will be at least a couple of days before a complete investigation of the cause can be started.

A cold front extends southwastward from the eastern Great Lakes through southern Indiana, central Missouri, and Kansas to southern New Mexico. High pressure lies to the northwest of the cold front with one center in the Dakotas and another in northwest Wyoming.

Cooler and drier air will spread slowly southeastward into Nebraska and Iowa behind the front, although wave action on the front in Kansas will trigger showers and thunderstorms just to our south in northeast Kansas and northwest Missouri. Otherwise over our area mostly fair and mild weather with light winds will prevail.

Reconsider LB784, Urges Ex-Governor

Omaha (UPI) — Former Gov. Frank B. Morrison said Monday he is organizing an effort to have the Legislature reconsider their action on LB784, a bill to set up a merit system for the hiring of deputy sheriffs in Douglas County.

The bill, which would provide for a three-member commission to conduct appointments for applicants, was tabled by the Legislature last week, a move equivalent to killing the measure.

Morrison said at a news conference Monday morning the move to table the bill was made while 14 senators were on a fact-finding trip to Michigan.

"It is a complete mystery to me the bill was tabled," he said. "Some senators who said they'd support it voted on that motion, and others did not vote a all.

'Deep Confusion'

"Apparently there is some deep confusion about this bill."

"Deputy sheriffs of this county do not have sufficient inducement to improve their professional competency (under the present system)," he said. "They have no security of tenure and can be subjected to the whims of political fortune.

"Maximum effectiveness of a police organization cannot be developed in this kind of an atmosphere."

White Minnesota Community Host To 100 Omaha Negroes

Crookston, Minn. (AP) — A flock of 100 black churchgoers from Omaha, Neb., livened this Minnesota town of 9,300 with a weekend visit that accentuated the bonds of friendship and spiritual brotherhood.

The Omaha families were repaying members of Trinity Lutheran Church for a visit several pastors and laymen made at Omaha during a convention of the American Lutheran Church last October.

The visit was a feature of Crookston's Pioneer Days, celebrating the 90th anniversary of the all-white community, and local sponsors made sure their guests rode in the parade.

Mayor Harold Thomforde told the Omaha Negroes, who'd come in a few cars and two buses from that racially tense city, "We don't claim to have the largest of anything here in Crookston. But we have 9,300 of the finest people."

Recalls Omaha Visit

The Rev. Paul R. Gilbertson, co-pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church in Crookston, recalled that he and six fellow convention delegates had dropped in on Salem Baptist Church at Omaha for a Sunday service.

The pastor there, the Rev. J. C. Wade, introduced them to the congregation and took up three collections — two regular ones and a third to take the guests out to dinner.

Gilbertson was invited to share the pulpit for an evening service, "and I told everybody from the pulpit all those singers ought to return to Minnesota with me," he recalled. "A loud set of 'Amens' came from the pews," he said.

10 Counties Eligible For Drought Aid

Washington (AP) — The office of Sen. Carl Curtis said Monday it had been advised the Agriculture Department was designating 10 counties in Nebraska as eligible for drought assistance.

They are Boyd, Brown, Custer, Garfield, Holt, Keya Paha, Loup, Rock, Valley and Wheeler Counties.

The drought assistance designation allows farmers in the counties to use grazing and haying privileges on diverted areas. Curtis, office said farmers should contact county ASC committee offices for permission and details.

Illegal Fireworks Charges Result In $100 Fines

Kearney (AP) — Two Kearney brothers have been charged with illegal sale of fireworks and fined $100 and costs each in Buffalo County Court. About $1,000 in fireworks were confiscated, police said.

Asst. Co. Atty. J. K. Taylor, who filed the charges, said a patrolman wearing plain clothes applied for purchase of fireworks at one stand Saturday and went to the other to get the fireworks.

Fined were Donald and Milford Vote.

Development Of Respect And Honesty Said Needed In Girls' Rehabilitation

York (AP) — To Gladys Ellenson, the rehabilitation of a wayward girl means constant observation and guidance in development of "respect and honesty."

Mrs. Ellenson, satisified that her program has been successful and will continue, retires Tuesday as superintendent of the Nebraska Women's Reformatory here.

She will return with her husband Edward to North Dakota's Red River Valley and "just sit on the porch and rock" for the present.

Mrs. Ellenson was a North Dakota school teacher before she came to Nebraska in 1957 as superintendent of the Girls' Training School at Geneva. She has been superintendent at York 9½ years.

Her personality development program, Mrs. Ellenson says is based on a philosophy of "development of dignity and self-respect in the girl."

'Same Aspirations'

"Each and every one has the same hopes and aspirations as all of us," she says.

The retiring superintendent says the girls are given an opportunity to develop "genuine respect for everyone as a human being — their thoughts, property and rights."

This requires efforts toward a "wholesome picture overall." Development through maturity is noted day-by-day, says the former schoolmarm who during her term here has never had a "major difficulty" she has been unable to handle without outside assistances.

The girls and their counsellors work "every day for betterment" at the institution which has inmates from Wyoming and South Dakota as well as Nebraska

GLADYS ELLENSON

When Mrs. Ellenson took over Jan. 1, 1960, she says, the girls were kept in confinement and felt they "came to be punished," not for rehabilitation.

'Morale Is High'

Every inmate has her own room now and morale is high at the institution that has no walls and no guards, she says. With matrons in charge, there have been no attempts to escape from the fence-enclosed reformatory, the superintendent adds.

In a few cases of serious illness or funerals at home, girls have been given unsupervised emergency leave. Not once has a girl been late in returning, Mrs. Ellenson says.

When Mrs. Ellenson arrived the reformatory had about 40 inmates. The population reached a peak of 83 about five years ago. At present there are about 60, including two from Wyoming and 15 from South Dakota, who serve their sentences under contract with Nebraska.

Mrs. Madolyn Gaffney, until recently program director of the Girls' Training School at Geneva, has been sitting in with Mrs. Ellenson this month and will become York superintendent Tuesday.

Her assistant will be Sister Joyce Stecheon, a member of the Order of Notre Dame. The 31-year-old nun from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, has a bachelor's degree from the College of St. Mary in Omaha and a master's from Creighton University.

Sister Joyce, to be known as Miss Stecheon in her new position, has taught elementary school in Nebraska and Iowa 12 years.

Norfolk Boy, 6, Drowns In Lake

Yankton, S. D. (AP) — A 6-year-old Norfolk boy has drowned in Lewis and Clark Lake near the Weigand Marina.

Game Warden John Schuckman of Crofton said Jerry Weaver was playing outside the marina on the Nebraska side of the lake when he apparently dropped into a six-foot hole.

Schuckman said the boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milford Weaver, was outside the posted swimming area, near Weigand Creek, when he drowned.

EVENTS

IN PERSPECTIVE

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

There is one "demonstration" being planned that everyone should be for. It was explained in a story which appeared in The Star yesterday morning. It is a demonstration of self-help property improvement in the Clinton School area.

Involved is an organization of residents in the northwest area of the city, called Home and Neighborhood Development (HAND), for the purpose of renovating a deteriorating home in the area. There will be no problem finding a home, since three-fourths of them are classified as dilapidated or deteriorating.

Project HAND is being sponsored by the Better Lincoln Committee through a local foundation grant and federal aid. The object is to demonstrate what can be done in an area if the residents get together and cooperate on something.

Ultimately, a council of area residents will be created to carry on future cooperative projects. The present temporary council feels many of the problems of the area have been encouraged by the lack of a minimum housing code, landlords who do not take care of their properties, lack of information by residents about city governmental procedures to get things done, and poor housekeeping and budget habits by some of the residents.

HAND is an appropriate designation for the organization involved because that is what is needed — a helping hand. Also appropriate would be hope, because that is needed, too.

People born to poverty or near-poverty need to understand, first of all, that things do not always have to be that way. They may never join the upper income group of society but they can improve themselves.

It is hard to imagine just what poverty might do to an individual but it is a good idea to think about it. After years of doing without even the basic essentials of life, one must become pretty hardened.

How can cleanliness mean much, for instance, when there is no money to buy soap, clothing, etc.? How can a clean and neat home mean much when you have a landlord who will spend nothing on your place and you have nowhere else to go?

And think of what the environment must do to initiative. If you are able to give your own family and home at least a minimum level of maintenance, it must be discouraging to see the disorder all around you.

You can't even control such things as bugs or rodents if you are in an area where no effort is made to do so by some people.

Watching your family, your friends and neighbors slowly but surely degraded by such an environment must be a disheartening experience, to say the least.

After years of frustration—generations of it in many cases—it will be hard to make people believe that it can be any different. After a lifetime of defeat, it isn't easy to think you might win.

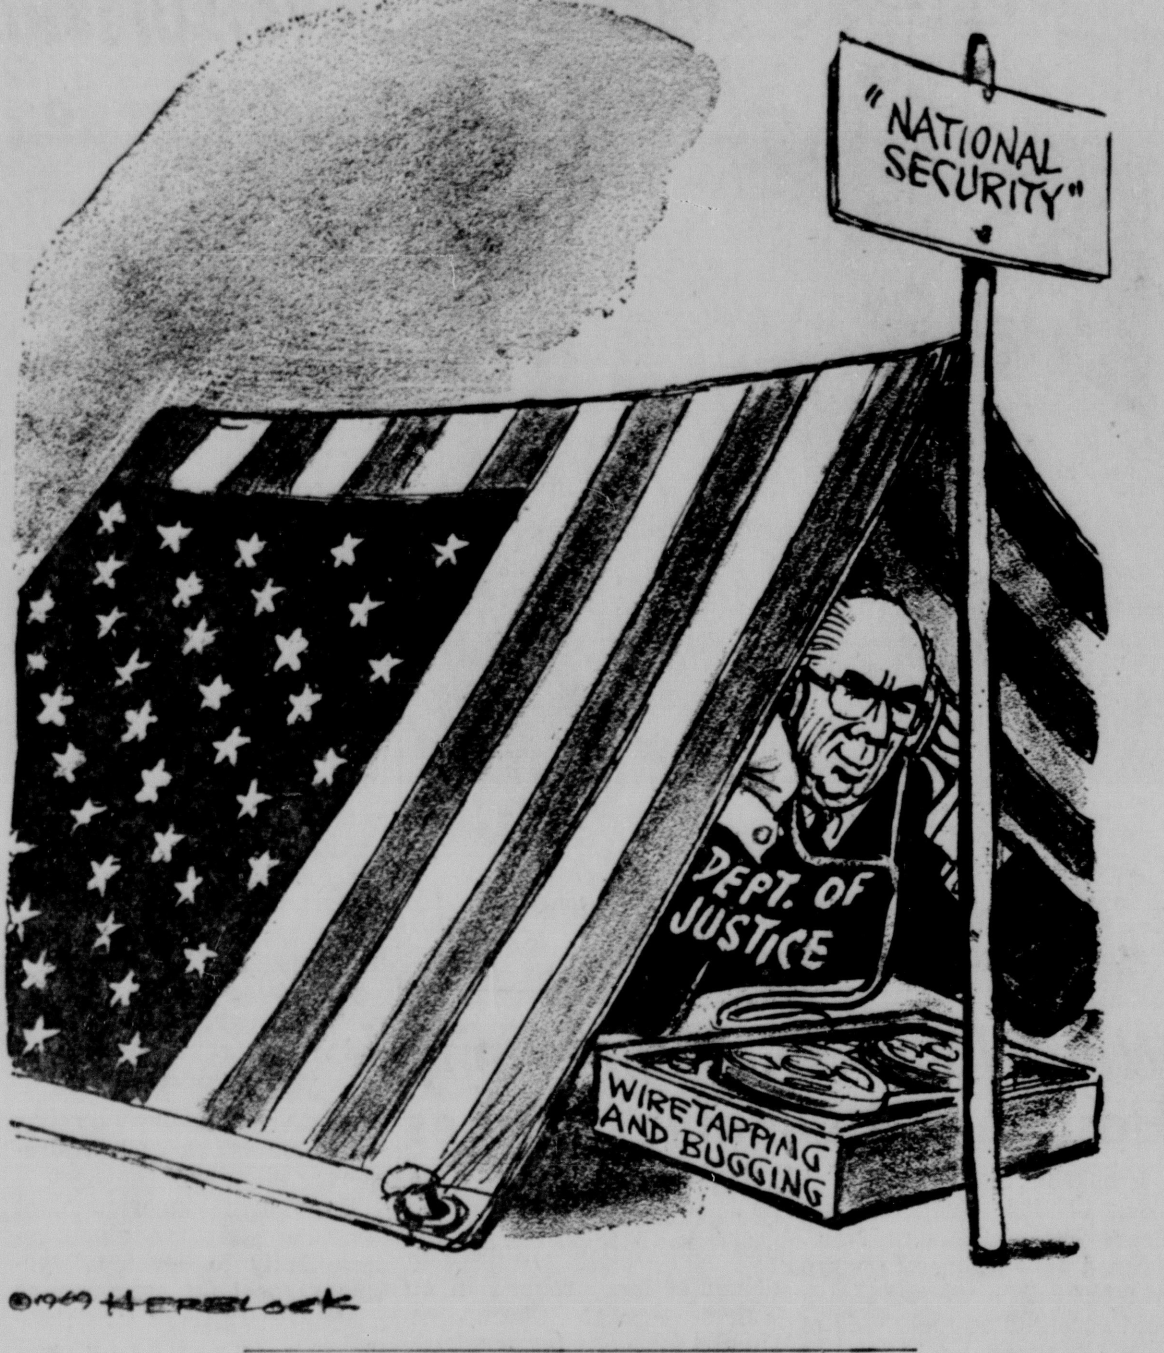
As it now stands, Project HAND is still limited help. There is not a lot of money available but a start can be made and if it shows results, additional funds could be expected.

For some people, as the council has noted, there is more involved than simply money. Personal habits will need to be improved on the part of some people if anything is to be done.

Beyond that, the program will call for a maximum of area-wide cooperation and self-help. What gets done to renovate this area will have to be done largely by the residents themselves, with guidance and financial help from the project sponsor.

The idea behind this project is not a particulary new one but it can and has worked elsewhere. It has the potential of considerable human enrichment, if only it can be realized.

The All-Purpose Cover



War By Plebiscite

Perhaps we should find no fault with the continual polling of the American people on the war in Vietnam but we wonder what purpose it serves. In the latest Gallup poll, 40 out of every 100 people favor withdrawing U.S. troops from Vietnam at a faster rate than President Nixon has called for.

Then, other various things are favored. The pollster said that the people, in short, want to find an honorable way out of Vietnam, but it has to be a way that does not negate our commitments or has any appearance of being a military defeat.

So what does all that prove? It proves that the American people are not fond of war but that isn't a very new discovery. The President would like to withdraw troops faster, too, and he would love to find an honorable way of quitting the unpopular fight in Vietnam.

But the point is that none of this has, so far, been possible. But in Vietnam, we seem to have degenerated into a kind of policy by plebiscite. We seem to think that the American people themselves ought to determine our policy and the President should simply carry it out.

This sounds nice and democratic but it is foolhardy. We have elected representatives, of which the President is one, whose job is to gather all the facts and decide things for us. How in the world are the American people going to know all the intimate details that would be required of them to make a formal and intelligent decision on Vietnam policy?

It seems a little ridiculous to us to keep asking the American people if they like the war in Vietnam. Obviously, they don't and it only aids enemy propaganda efforts to continually make the point.

Preventive Legislation

If the Legislature can move with great dispatch to pass riot control legislation, it should also move quickly to pass legislation that would go a long way toward preventing riots.

Specifically, the state-wide open housing law and a bill to appropriate money for a vocational-technical school for Omaha. That type of legislation is a far better remedy for what has happened in cities across the country than the riot control bill passed by the Legislature last week.

The open housing bill, still intact after particularly bitter debate last month, is stuck on select file. It will be considered again with other bills that will cost more than $50,000 to enact. The open housing bill creates the Equal Opportunity Commission, which will handle complaints in housing and employment. The bigger staff required is the reason the bill will cost money.

But we feel the Legislature can make exceptions. It jumped pretty far and fast in passing the riot control bill. Passing legislation that has a positive effect on people might give the troubled minorities in Omaha at least a psychological boost.

The same can be said for an Omaha vocational-technical school. Sen. Edward Danner of Omaha will ask for $1 million for one in an amendment to the supplemental budget bill. The school wouldn't be exclusively for the black community, but young black people would benefit greatly from its existence. We would like to see the Legislature get excited about passing bills that help people.

Thank You

Lincoln, Neb.

On behalf of the Biafra Association, Nebraska Chapter, I write to thank The Star and Mr. Garrison for publishing the six articles on Biafra entitled, "A Million Deaths Later." These articles have gone a long way in exposing the inevitability of Biafra's will to survive despite the great odds.

The six articles so far published by The Star have helped to educate the American people on the reasons why we will never give up.

A Billion Dollars

Lincoln, Neb.

An annual federal budget of $200 billion is in the offing. Such a large amount of money is incomprehensible to most of us — like an unfamiliar language—so it is hard to form opinions.

Merely explaining that a billion is 1,000 million doesn't help much. Perhaps the following will.

A billion dollars will pay the state taxes of Nebraska for six years.

It is equal to the entire assessed property valuation in Nebraska.

It would build 160 new hospitals such as Lincoln's St. Elizabeth.

It would purchase $200 worth of goods and services for every poor family in the country.

It would purchase 70,000 middle-class homes.

It would operate our Defense Department for four days.

Matter Of Respect

Lincoln, Neb.

It takes all kinds of people to make a world—but it takes only a few kinds to wreck it, and those few are not only destroying democracy in worldwide dimensions, they are prolonging Vietnam and civil disorders by their stupid attitudes and primitive, erratic behavior.

There are customs all over the world, from Hollywood to New York, Texas to the Canadian border. The South prides itself on hospitality, and New Orleans culture varies from eastern sophistication to clean, breezy mountain whimsy to the innocent abandon of the seashore. Laws vary — but not personal dignity and self-respect. Those are universal.

Flower children speak of love. That is a personal thing to give or accept. Respect is something we can give and still have. Respect for other people's rights, values and the dignity of man and woman to live their own private lives under God and democracy.

If America learned that one rule, perhaps there could be peace and quiet all over the world. God created man with equal rights for eternal salvation, and man created America with equal rights under the law. When these laws are violated, people suffer the consequences.

America has become an ethical skid-row and political minstrel. Marketplace gossip, ridicule, sexual deprivaty and strong-arm tactics are prolonging Vietnam by introducing heatenism as a vulgar weapon for defeat.

A government is only as good as the people it represents and vice versa.

LUCILLE PATTERSON

David's Job

Lincoln, Neb.

Some folks can surely be nasty, such as "V.B." in the June 25 Star regarding David Eisenhower's Washington job with Senator Hruska.

Why shouldn't he accept this job? Who but the taxpayers set up business for the Johnson sons-in-law? Who but we the people are paying Johnson an extra bonus of $375,000 for 12 more months to help him get adjusted back into being a private citizen? This is an old buddy gift from George Mahon of the House. The Johnson family has a well-feathered nest, already, but seems they need just a little more.

Every now and then, the government gets hooked by light-fingered individuals, and who pays but the taxpayers?

I am sure that young Eisenhower will earn his pay in a most businesslike manner. After all, family blood will tell and one has never heard of a parasite in either family.

I am sure there are thousands of deserving graduated young men who would be deserving of the work he will do but have always heard that charity begins at home. Most elements of big business are thus handed down through the men of its household.

CHARLES W. WILLEY

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

To Your Good Health

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am a girl, 13, and 170 pounds. I have been trying to lose weight for about a week. I should have done this before, because diabetes runs in my family. My mother has it and she always told me to watch myself. But I didn't listen. I don't have diabetes but am afraid I might get it in the future. Please help me. — L.F.

Better to learn to watch your weight at 13 than later, but at 170 pounds you obviously are very much overweight. Don't expect to shed the excess in a week, or a month. But in several months, you should make a lot of progress.

Here's what I'd suggest:

1 — Ask your mother to see to it that you have three meals a day, which will supply the energy, protein, and vitamins you need.

2 — Promise her (and yourself) not to ask for seconds.

3 — Promise yourself not to eat between meals. If you are 170 at age 13, I suspect that you have a well-developed habit of liking candy and pop and ice cream, and of icebox raiding. For you, it's a bad habit. Break it — even if it isn't easy.

4 — Don't skip meals. Don't skip breakfast. A lot of girls skip meals trying to stay slim, but it isn't good for them, and usually it doesn't work, anyway. They're tired all morning, lethargic and inactive, but then eat too much at other meals.

5 — Limit yourself to one slice of bread at a meal. And if you have used lots of butter (and jelly?) reduce the amount. Over a few weeks, that can make a difference.

6 — Don't have dessert. Or limit it to a dish of gelatin (no cream on it) or some fruit.

7—When you have an uncontrollable urge to eat something, learn to assuage it by chewing raw vegetables. They contain useful minerals and roughage, but few calories. But for many folks, just the act of chewing takes the edge off the urge to eat. Carrot sticks, celery, a wedge of raw cabbage or lettuce, or even other vegetable

8—Get more exercise. It doesn't much matter how, but physical exercise uses up calories and will help you shed your extra pounds.

9—Believe in yourself. You CAN reduce. Anyone can. With your family trait of diabetes, it is even more important to you than it is to others. Good luck, girl.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have read many times that polyps of the colon should be removed when found. My doctor found several but also said there was no need to worry, that he didn't want to operate unless they started to bleed. Isn't that dangerous? What do you think I should do?—M.C.

The attitude toward polyps in the bowel (colon) is changing. It is true that some of them may become malignant, but the majority do not.

When polyps are known to be present, it is just common sense to examine them from time to time. If they are low enough in the colon to be inspected directly by proctoscope, the polyps can readily be watched and, if large or showing any sign of change, removed.

If they are higher in the colon, and discovered by X-ray (barium enema), removal requires abdominal surgery. A decision to undertake such surgery is not to be made lightly. If subsequent X-rays show changes in the polyps, then removal is wise.

Because of the tremendous volume of mail received daily, Dr. Thosteson regrets that he cannot answer individual letters, but whenever possible he uses readers' questions in his column.

American-Cuban Situation Improved

WASHINGTON — An unpublicized but secret romance has been taking place between Fidel Castro and the State Department. It hasn't blossomed into anything near matrimony as yet, but relations between the United States and Cuba have improved so much that there's speculation among Latin American diplomats that the two countries will resume relations in a year or so.

One evidence has been Fidel Castro's cooperation in regard to hijacking. Negotiations regarding hijacking are conducted through the Swiss Embassy in Havana and have resulted in, first, an immediate release of American planes flown to Cuba; and second, the jailing of hijackers.

Second indication of better American-Cupan understanding has been the position of the State Department in regard to the admission of Jamaica into the Organization of American States. Jamaica maintains consulates in Cuba. Hitherto no members of the OAS except for Mexico have been permitted to maintain either consulates or diplomatic ties with Cuba.

During closed-door discussions over this problem, the United States has taken the lead in defending Jamaica's right to continue its consulates, while several other Latin-American countries, led by Bolivia, have been opposed.

Meanwhile, Fidel Castro has made public statements that the economic and cultural ties between Cuba and the United States have been so important in the past that Cuba must resume relations with the United States and would be willing to pay for the American property seized by his regime. Castro has even made this statement in Moscow. Russian diplomats have also told the United States frankly that they would be delighted to end their economic commitment to Cuba which is costing them around $1 million a week.

Chief deterrent to the resumption of U.S.-Cuban relations in the past has been Castro's formenting of revolution in neighboring countries. Recently, however, there has been no evidence of Cuban guerrillas in nearby Caribbean countries.

The anti-American sentiment stirred up during Gov. Rockefeller's trip has been traced to local student organizations and leftwing labor groups aroused partly over President Nixon's criticism of Latin-American universities and partly reacting to the deliberate anti-American program waged by the Peruvian military. The Peruvians have been more effective in poisoning public opinion against the United States than Fidel Castro ever was.

JAMES RESTON

President Cursed By The Avoidable Blunder; Trait Is Evident In Recent Small Questions

NEW YORK — President Nixon seems to be developing a weakness for the avoidable blunder. Not satisfied with the agonies of unavoidable problems, he somehow manages to depart periodically from his normal caution and not only create but plan unnecessary trouble.

He didn't have to appoint Walter Annenberg, of all people, to be his ambassador to London, of all places. He didn't have to choose to visit the Rumanians, who are the principal critics of Moscow within the communist alliance, just before trying to reach a disarmament accommodation with the Soviet Union.

He didn't have to reject the advice of the most liberal member of his cabinet on the appointment of Dr. John Knowles as the nation's top health officer under pressure from Sen. John Tower of Texas and Rep. Bob Wilson of California and the other conservative members of the Congress and the American Medical Association.

He could have avoided his silly personal quarrel with Clark Clifford, the divisive battle over the anti-ballistic missile system, his provocative lectures to the university radicals, and the unnecessary journeys of Gov. Rockefeller to Latin America, but for some mysterious or capricious reason he took on all these avoidable mistakes, and he has clearly hurt himself in the process.

The Republic will undoubtedly survive all these decisions. The British expect us to be clumsy and Annenberg merely seems to confirm all their prejudices about our political immaturity. The Russians will not change their disarmament policy because of Nixon's mis-timed visit to Bucharest. The Latin Americans will take over our properties and vilify Uncle Sam, with or without visits from Rockefeller. The rebuke to Finch and to Knowles, who was a Nixon Republican, won't change HEW policy by the substitution of Dr. Roger Egeberg, the dean of the University of Southern California's Medical School, who is a liberal Democrat.

But this only raises the main point about Nixon's judgment. What makes him dig his own booby-traps?

On the great questions of public policy — winding up the war in Vietnam, trying to control and reduce the colossal expenditures for military arms, and defuse the alarming undeclared war in the Middle East — Nixon has been thoughtful and prudent, but on the small questions, like President Truman, he has been willful, political, and capricious.

It is very odd and puzzling to a man who is normally so canny and concerned with his own past reputation and his own present place as the political and moral leader of the nation. He is a minority president, representing a minority party in the Congress. He needs to widen his political base to govern the country and be re-elected. He needs the help of the Russians to end the war and cut the military budget in order to finance the programs of economic and social reconstruction at home. Yet, on the side, he creates barriers to the objectives he seeks.

President Johnson was destroyed by his own willfulness and emphasis on political maneuver. Nobody knows this better than Nixon, who had a reputation for the same kind of political and personal bias before he was elected to the presidency. Accordingly, he started out to dramatize the difference between his style and Johnson's. He eliminated the dramatics. He lowered his voice. He decentralized and depersonalized the government, and emphasized the integrity and responsibility of the individual cabinet members.

"I believe," he said on September 18 last year, "in a system in which the appropriate cabinet officer gets credit for what is right and the president takes the blame for what is wrong. Officials of a new administration will not have to check their consciences at the door, or leave their powers of independent judgment at home."

This was obviously a campaign slap at Johnson, but though Nixon said publicly that he would support Finch's recommendation of the man to guard the nation's health, he buckled under political pressure from the right, and abandoned not only his most liberal cabinet colleague but his closest political friend.

If the political forces had really been against him on this one, if he had been overwhelmed by unavoidable realities, as he is on Vietnam, his decision would have been understandable. But this was not the case in the conflict between Finch and the campaign fund raisers and the most conservative element in the American Medical Association. He didn't have to decide as he did.

He could have made another judgment on Knowles, on Rumania, on Rockefeller, on Annenberg, and on the ABM, but he didn't, and the result is that both his liberal opposition and even his conservative allies are now wondering where they stand, and a lot of other people are wondering about the President's judgment.

Daughter Says She Loves Hubby Despite His Caveman Approach

By ROBERT PETERSON

Q. — "Our married daughter's husband is successful and from a good family. But you'd think he was brought up in a jungle the way he knocks her around. About once a week he gets mad at something she does and actually hits her — sometimes she shows us the bruises. Last night I had her on the phone and he must have thought we talked too long for he slapped her so hard she dropped the receiver. Despite all this she says she loves him. Isn't there something we can do?"

A. — Yes, stay out of the situation. Your daughter's a big girl now and if she doesn't like the way hubby's treating her she can holler for help or fight back. Curiously, some women like the cave man approach and get bored with their mate if they don't get occasional rough treatment. Whie most couples prefer tranquility, some battle their way happily through decades of married life.

Q. — "After being a widow six years I recently married a retired airlines pilot. He gets a reduction on flight travel and likes to take flying vacations. But I'm scared to death on a plane. He thinks I'm making this up, but I actually get so frightened when we go through bumpy air I think I'll have a heart attack. What's the matter with me?"

A. — Many people have a genuine fear of flying. Most of them get over it in time, but some never do. Make a major effort this forthcoming year to overcome your fear. Talk with your husband about it and have confidence in what he says. If the fear persists after a year or two you may have to switch to cars, trains, and buses.

Q. — "I'm a retired grocer, 74, and my great fear is dying. Other people my age seem very adjusted to the idea, but it bothers me. I expect to live another 15 or 20 years, but then what? I've lived a good life and don't think I'll go to hell — if there is such a place. But what happens when we die?"

A. — Perhaps the best advice on the subject comes from Cicero who, in an essay written 2,000 years ago, said, "Death should be held of no account for it brings out but two alternatives: either it utterly annihilates the person and his soul, or it transports the soul to someplace where it will live forever. What then should a good man fear if death will bring only nothingness or happiness?" Cicero also points out that all living things die in the natural scheme of things, and that we should not wish to be exempt from this grand plan.

Nebraska Legislature Is Down To Its Last 266 Measures

B ODELL HANSON
Associated Press Writer

Nebraska's 1969 Legislature, currently in recess, is down to its last 266 bills.

That's about 19% of the 1,427 bills introduced.

Two years ago at the same session stage, lawmakers had disposed of all but 123 or 13% of the 943 bills introduced.

The 1967 session ran 134 legislative days — just 16 more days than this year's Legislature already has put in — and ended on July 22.

The record for session length was set in 1965 when senators put in 149 days and adjourned sine die Aug. 17.

Legislators began a nine-day Independence Day recess Friday afternoon, and will return next Monday, July 7, to put in their 119th legislative day.

Lawmakers have disposed of bills at the rate of nearly 10 per day, a pace which may well represent a Unicameral record. But the unprecedented number of bills introduced — 1,427 compared with a previous high of 947 two years ago — keeps adjournment at a distance.

Sen. Jerome Warner of Waverly, speaker of the 1969 Legislature, said he is sticking to his prediction that this year's adjournment will come sometime during the first full week in August, perhaps Aug. 7 or 8, but "nobody believes me."

He acknowledged the estimate may be "overly optimistic," but said "I like to keep a goal hanging up-there."

Other senators have made adjournment predictions ranging from the end of July to the 26th of September although mid-August has proved a favorite prediction.

Those foreseeing a windup closer to Labor Day draw support from the fact the Legislature presently has 174 bills on general file, awaiting initial and major floor debate. Two years ago only 11 bills rested in this position.

The unofficial box score after 118 legislative days, with comparable figures from the 1967 session in parenthesis:

Bills introduced 1,427 (943).
Bills passed 622 (524).
Bills killed, vetoed or failed on final reading 442 (235).
Bills withdrawn 97 (61).
Bills on floor awaiting disposition 250 (101).
Bills in committee 16 (22).
Bills disposed of, 1,161 (820).
Percentage of introduced bills disposed of, 81%, (87%).
Bills in all positions awaiting disposition 266 (123).

HEW, Senate Take Steps To Combat Soaring Costs Of State Medicaid Program

Washington (AP) — The government took double barreled aim Monday at soaring costs of the medicaid program.

—The Department of Health, Education and Welfare issued new regulations designed to clamp down on fees paid to doctors, dentists and other individuals under medicaid.

—The Senate passed and sent to the House legislation that would permit the states to control the costs of the program.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said the compromise bill passed by the Senate "strikes a better balance between efforts to attain the national goals of the medicaid program and the need to meet the acute financial distress being faced by several states" operating medicaid programs.

Medicaid, created by Congress in 1965, is a state-administered health care program for the poor.

Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Robert H. Finch said the new regulations would take effect in 30 days. They would establish the first federal standard for fees under medicaid.

Basically, the complex and technical regulations say fees must be based on what 75 out of every 100 doctors in a given area were charging under medicaid in January 1969. This is referred to in the announcement as "the 75th percentile of customary charges."

States now basing their fees on a lower per centile can raise the standard. States using a one greater than 75 must come down although some exceptions are allowed.

The regulations pertaining only to fees expires July 1, 1970, and Finch said states will be allowed to increase fees only when certain conditions are met.

LEGAL NOTICE

Notice to Consumers of Certain Broad Spectrum Antibiotics

The State of Nebraska, through its Attorney General, Clarence A. H. Meyer, has pending a legal action in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York against certain drug companies (Chas. Pfizer & Co., Inc., American Cyanamid Company, Bristol-Myers Company, Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation (Squibb) and The Upjohn Company) alleging that those companies violated the antitrust laws in the sale of certain of their broad spectrum antibiotic products within the period 1954-1966. On May 26, 1969, the Court determined that the Attorney General was the proper representative of a statewide class which included all members of the public who purchased the Aureomycin, Terramycin and tetracycline products[1] of those companies in the State during the stated period.

The companies, while denying liability, have made a nationwide offer of 100 million dollars in settlement of all claims that any State or local governmental entity, drug wholesaler, retail pharmacist or member of the consuming public within the United States or Puerto Rico might have against them arising from purchases of broad spectrum antibiotic products during the stated period. On behalf of the State and the governmental entities and consuming public within the State, your Attorney General has elected to participate in that settlement subject to the establishment of appropriate allocations of this fund under supervision of the Court.

Now, therefore, take notice:

1. If you have purchased any of these drugs within the period 1954-1966:

a) The Court will exclude you from the class represented by the Attorney General if you request exclusion in writing addressed to the undersigned at P.O. Box 729, Bronx, New York 10451, and postmarked not later than August 1, 1969. If you elect to be excluded from the class, you will be free to pursue on your own behalf whatever legal rights you may have.

b) If you do not request exclusion from the class by August 1, 1969, you will be included in such class and any judgment, whether favorable or not, including any judgment approving any settlement of this action, will be binding upon you.

2. If you do not request exclusion from the class by August 1, 1969:

a) You may make a claim to receive directly a share as approved by the Court of any funds received by the Attorney General as representative of the members of the consuming public within the State. In order to make such a claim you must file with the undersigned at P.O. Box 729, Bronx, New York 10451[2] by August 16, 1969, either a verified statement or a statement certified by your local pharmacist or other supplier showing by year the total dollar amount of the Aureomycin, Terramycin and tetracycline products purchased by you; the name of each such product and the name and address of the pharmacy or other place where each such product was purchased;[3] and if you have been reimbursed on account of such purchases, by whom and how much. Your statement must include your residence or post office address and you may later be required to produce written proof of your purchases; or

b) If you do not make an individual claim by August 16, 1969, that will constitute an authorization to the Attorney General to utilize whatever money he may recover as your representative for the benefit of the citizens of your State in such manner as the Court may direct.

3. If you do not request exclusion from the class but prefer in connection with your individual claim to be represented by your own counsel rather than by the Attorney General, you may enter an appearance through your counsel but not later than August 1, 1969.

Clerk of the United States District Court

[2] If you reside outside the State, send your claim to P.O. Box 752, Bronx, New York 10451.

[3] The Attorney General of your State will forward claims on account of purchases made outside the State to the Attorneys General of the states in which such purchases were made, provided such states are participating in the settlement.

City Council Nixes Request For Knox St. Water District

The City Council Monday turned down a request for creation of a water district in Knox St. between 50th and 53rd Sts.

The water district, which had been requested by Action Realty, drew considerable oppostiion during a public hearing from residents in the proposed district.

Six residents protested that the real estate firm, which is building a house on Knox, should be required to install its own water service.

The residents contended that they have all paid for private lines and would not be benefited by a new water main. A petition opposing the district and signed by all but two property owners involved was presented.

Action Tabled

Council members tabled action for one week on a change of zone request that would increase the maximum height in E Multiple Dwelling districts to 130 feet.

However, council members assured Newt Copple, who had requested the change, that they could pass it next week.

Councilman Dick Hartsock requested the delay so that a sewer easement agreement could be written.

Councilmen Bill Davidson and Tom Allman voted against the motion to table, saying they wanted the change to be approved Monday.

Copple had requested the change so that he could increase the height of his proposed high-rise apartment at 52nd and R St. to 130 feet rather than 90-foot height now permitted.

Planning Director Douglas Brogden had opposed a 130-foot building, claiming that the structure "would dominate the area."

Repaving Okayed

A repaving district on 10th St. between J and K Sts. was approved.

The district calls for the widening of 10th St. in order to line up the driving lanes with that north of K St.

The project includes a curb setback on the west side so that persons can be let off in front of the County-City Building.

Council members had also approved a repaving district on 9th St. but tabled action on a repaving district on H St. between 10th to 9th Sts., because the county is said to be considering closing H St. in the near future.

Davidson said closing H St. "would be beneficial to the city in that the closed-off area could be used as parking spaces."

Council members also took the following action:

Ordinances, Third Reading

—Approved paving district in 19th St. from Harrison to south half of Lot 12, Blk. 7, Garfield Park.

—Approved paving district in M St. from 1st to 2nd St.

—Rejected water district in NW 22nd St. from 50th to 53rd Sts.

—Approved conveyance of property owned by city having market value in excess of $5,000. Property is vacated 47th St. from north half of extended Y St. to south half of Orchard St. extended.

—Approved plat of Capitol Beach Manor 4th Addn. in general area of West S St. and NW 9th St.

—Placed on pending change of zone from A-2 and L Heavy to K Light Industry in area south of A St. and east of So. Folsom, requested by Charles Roach Jr.

Private Survey Reinforces City Stand On West O Signal

Lincoln City Traffic Engineer Robert Holsinger said Monday a recent private survey of the traffic situation at West O and Capital Beach Blvd. reinforces his department's action in giving low priority to a stoplight at the intersection.

Holsinger has previously rated a traffic signal at the intersection far down on the priority list.

"The traffic counts submitted by the West O business group and PTA correlate very closely with the counts taken by the City of Lincoln and the Nebraska Department of Roads," Holsinger said in a report to the council.

Holsinger said that "applying their data to the traffic signal priority computations utilized in the City of Lincoln, no change is made in priority evaluation nor in priority standing."

The West O groups have been pressing city officials for a traffic signal at the intersection in order to break up the flow of traffic.

Holsinger has said that funds should not be appropriated for the traffic signal during the 1969-70 fiscal year because other intersections are in greater need of a traffic signal according to the priority computation system.

Cengas Customers To Get Lower Natural Gas Rates

Lower natural gas rates for Cengas customers were announced Monday by C. L. Wilcox, Lincoln division manager.

Wilcos said the new rates — effective for meter reading periods on and after May 27 — will save the average homeowner about $3.50 per year.

Wilcox said the rate reduction is due to the Federal Power Commission's recent reduction in wholesale gas rates that Northern Natural Gas Co. of Omaha charges Cengas.

Cengas earlier this year increased rates. A portion of the increase was to pay for the increased wholesale rates.

The division manager said refunds would also be made to Cengas customers in the fall for that portion which Northern must refund to Cengas under the FPC order.

The exact amount of Northern's refund has not been determined, but Wilcox said the refund to Cengas customers will date back to Feb. 10, the date the present rates went into effect.

Cengas officials estimate that the company's customers in Lincoln and 36 other Nebraska communities will save about $500,000 annually as a result of the rate reduction.

Wilcox said a person using 10,000 cubic feet of gas during a month would have his bill reduced from $10.42 to $10.22.

The new rates would have no effect on costs for up to 600 cubic feet of gas — that charge will remain $1.75.

The costs for service after the first 600 cubic feet (figures represent costs per thousand cubic feet):

	OLD RATES	REDUCED RATES
Next 1,400 cubic feet	$1.18	$1.15
Next 3,000	.94	.92
Next 5,000	.84	.82
Next 40,000	.76	.74
Next 50,000	.74	.72

Kennedy Urges U.S. Recognize Mongolian State

Washington (UPI) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy urged Monday that the United States recognize Mongolia, saying this could become an importan first step toward ultimately establishing diplomatic relations with Red China.

In a Senate speech, Kennedy said, "We can no longer afford to forego the opportunity to establish a diplomatic mission in Mongolia.

"Such a mission would enable us to become better informed about relations between China and the Soviet Union, and might well be a significant first step toward recognition of Peking."

GILBERT W. FITZHUGH

Fitzhugh To Head Probe Of Pentagon

© The New York Times

Washington — The Nixon administration announced Monday the formation of a "blue ribbon panel" to make a 12-month study of the Defense Department's management, research, procurement and decision-making machinery with a view to recommending reforms.

The move came at a time when the Pentagon has been coming under increasing criticism from Congress on allegedly prodigious waste.

President Nixon announced the appointment of Gilbert W. Fitzhugh, chairman of the board and chief executive officer of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. of New York city, as chairman of the panel.

About 12 to 15 other panel members, including lawyers, businessmen, economist labor leaders and others will be named within two weeks, according to Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird.

One evidence of shifting attitude in Congress on defense spending came in a report from congressional sources that the Senate Armed Services Committee, long a proponent of a powerful defense establishment, had recently voted to slash $1,050,000,000 from the Pentagon's request for research and development funds.

Fitzhugh, who appeared with Laird at the news conference, said he had "no preconceived ideas" on what reforms may be needed in the Defense Department.

DON'T SAY THIS LAW IS PREJUDICED

Lincoln's chief legal officer made an appearance in Municipal Court Monday, but he was there as defendant rather than prosecutor.

City Attorney M. Krivosha was in court on charges he was driving 43 miles per hour in a 35 mile-per-hour zone.

He pleaded guilty and the judge promptly fined him $16 and court costs.

Washington (UPI) — The Senate has confirmed the nomination of Gen. Earle G. Wheeler for a second one-year extension of his term as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Housing Needs Given Top Priority By LAP

By LUCILLE HOWARD
Star Staff Writer

Housing needs were given top priority in a lengthy statement of plans and priorities for the next year approved by the Lincoln Action Program board of directors Monday.

The primary objective outlined by the community action agency will be implementation of a minimum housing code within the area.

The code was termed, "the most necessary step in alleviating dilapidated housing and forcing property owners to correct existing problems in their properties."

Other priorities for LAP during the year related to housing will be lending assistance to the Lincoln Housing Authority and other organizations concerned with housing problems and studying information on housing needs.

Goals for the next three years include expansion and improvement of the LAP housing programs as well as seeking new federal programs which can assist in the construction and rehabilitation of housing specifically designed for low-income families and senior citizens.

The program statement, determined by LAP staff members and by low income persons responding to surveys, outlines plans aimed at attempting to eliminate poverty in the city and county during the next program year, Oct. 1, 1969-Sept. 30. 1970.

It also sets goals for the next three years and designates LAP projects designed to alleviate specific poverty problems.

Employment was termed the second major problem of low income persons with expansion of day care facilities named the top priority in alleviating the main problem of working mothers.

A manpower program will be started on an experimental basis next year, directed toward the problem of providing people with jobs for which they are qualified.

Raise Standards

In the long-range plans for employment will be efforts to raise wage standards, broaden training opportunities, eliminate job discrimination and work with employer to provide more entry level jobs for less educated people.

Rated the third priority was education "due to the needs being met in an adequate manner," it was explained.

Low-income persons indicated that the education programs such as Head Start and adult basic education were needed but were less important now because of the fact that needs are being met

Training Programs

During the next three years LAP will assist in establishing additional comprehensive vocational training programs and seek increased funding for existing educational programs.

A family planning program, programs to meet health needs of the elderly poor such as nursing home care and means in their homes and a half-way house for alcoholics are slated during the next year to meet the health needs, rated fourth in priority.

Meeting the high cost of hospital care for low income persons, establishing other programs for alcoholics, treatment for venereal disease and better dental care for low-income persons, were listed as long-range health goals.

Services Requested

Other services requested by low-income persons and included in the LAP plans were some form of financial counseling and money management service, continued legal aid, improving transportation facilities for low-income persons and improving recreational opportunities for the poor.

Board members also approved detailed budgets for each program component of the Lincoln Action Program with only minor changes from the budgets requested. The board had approved total amounts of money to be requested from the federal Office of Economic Opportunity for each agency at its last meeting.

Catholic Ed Board Names Robert Sittig

Dr. Robert Sittig, assistant professor of political science at the University of Nebraska, was elected president of the Lincoln Catholic Board of Education Monday night.

Sittig, who succeeds James Duggan, represents the Sacred Heart parish on the board.

Hal Schroeder, representative of the Cathedral of the Risen Christ parish, was elected vice president.

Tom Cowan of the Blessed Sacrament parish was named secretary treasurer.

New board members seated Monday night were Cowan, Roy Loudon of St. Teresa's, Fran Lempka of St. John's, Tom Heelen, re-elected from St. Thomas Acquinas, Father Raymond Hain of St. Thomas Acquinas and Father M. M. Kaczmarek of St. Teresa's.

LAP Salary Hikes Okayed

Pay raises amounting to approximately 7½% for most employes of the Lincoln Action Program were approved by the LAP board of directors here Monday night.

All staff members will receive a 5% cost of living salary increase, and almost all employes will receive a 2½% merit increase, according to the LAP board action.

Employes completing some form of formal education, such as adult basic education, Adult High School or a business course, also will receive another 2½% pay increase.

The cost of living and merit raises will generally become effective on the anniversary date of staff members' affiliation with the agency, reported LAP director Art May.

On the basis of the LAP salary schedule, the 5% cost of living increases will amount to $168 for the grade one employe such as clerical persons and community organizers and $588 for the grade ten employe, the director.

Salaries on the LAP schedule range in six increment steps from $3,360 to $4,200 for grade one employes and $11,748 to $14,688 for the maximum grade, grade ten employes.

RESPECTED?

The newspaperboy is respected — by his own friends, by his parents, and by his elders.

He is respected because he has his own business, and through his own individual efforts, has made a success.

He is respected because he has learned the value of time, money, and hard work.

He is respected because he looks like a businessman: fresh haircut; neatly and appropriately dressed; clean, fresh newspapers in a sparkling bag.

He is respected because he acts like a businessman: Never too busy or pre-occupied to perform courtesies on his route; respects the property of others; smiles often; knows when to say "Please" and "Thank you."

Railroad Car Leaking Ammonia Discovered

A tank car parked on a siding at about 7th and M Sts. was discovered leaking anhydrous ammonia early Monday, and was later moved to the Jamaica siding, seven miles south of Lincoln.

The leak, discovered by John Tillis of 4305 Adams, a packing house security guard, was not considered dangerous by Lincoln Fire Dept. officials.

The tank from which the gas was escaping was one of five tank cars in a string. Each contained about 11,000 gallons of anhydrous ammonia.

A two-hous delay in moving the tank occurred however, and Lincoln Fire Chief Dallas Johnson said he was "disturbed that there was no crew available to transfer dangerous commodities out of the city."

A Union Pacific official said "the apparent time delay" was the result of the fact there are no regular operating switch crews in Lincoln before 8 a.m.

UP had been advised of the leaking tank shortly after 6 p.m.

It was noted by a railroad spokesmen, however, that the situation was not described as being enough of an emergency to bring in an emergency crew.

"Had a real danger been present, it would have been handled much more expeditiously," he said.

Pegram Seeks Court Action On License Request

B. J. Pegram Monday requested the Lancaster District Court to reverse the order of tthe Nebraska Liquor Control Commission and order it to grant him an on and off-sale beer license for 1011 West Dawes.

According to the petition, on March 31, Pegram applied for the license, the Lincoln City Council held a public hearing and recommended denial, and on June 3 the Liquor Commission denied his application.

He contends that in 1966 he was granted an off-sale license and that he had offered to relinquish it in favor of the on and off-sale license requested.

Pegram further alleges that the commission's order was contrary to law, contrary to facts and evidence and in violation of the commission's practice of granting licenses to applicants where an existing license is being surrendered.

His sister, Violet, 3, received head injuries and abrasions.

Police said the accident occurred between Havelock Ave. and 70th St.

Governors Told Of Need For Changes In Education

Wichita, Kan. (AP) — The nation's educational system was accused Monday at the Midwestern Governors Conference with failing to keep up with a changeable world and thus creating young iconoclasts.

Gov. William G. Milliken of Michigan said school systems have not changed greatly since the turn of the century, while the world has changed greatly.

"To cope with this changed and chainging world, innovations, imagination, creativity and dedication are required," said Milliken.

Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio charged the educational system is not meeting the needs of young people and has created a rebellious group.

"The educational system is geared to preparing students for college when, in my state, 68 per cent of the students don't go on to college," Rhodes said.

Gov. Harold Levander of Minnesota said university officials should examine the educational traditions of the past and devlop schools capable of initiating change and of continuous response to demands of change.

The governors outlined their views in a panel discussion under the chairmanship of Nebraska Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann.

Milliken said no subject more vitally affects the lives of people than quality education.

"Education is the greatest single challenge the states face today," the Michigan governor said.

"Unless the states do a better job, they invite the very thing they don't want — greater movement of the federal government into this field."

Rhodes said the Crime Control and Safe Streets Act is the product of a bankrupt welfare system and an educational system that fails to meet the needs of young people.

"The Crime Control Act is not the answer; job training is," Rhodes said. "The young peiple of Ohio don't want a program to keep them off the streets. They want a job."

Davey School Diistrict 149 Dissolved

School District 149 (Davey) was dissolved Monday and its territory attached to Waverly District 145 and Central District 161, according to Lancaster County Supertindent of Schools Glenn Turner.

He said the dissolution, which leaves Lancaster County with 18 school districts, resulted from circulation of voluntary petitions with landowners being attached to the school districts of their preference.

Approximately two-thirds of District 149, which had a 1968 valuation of $873,315, was attached to Waverly, while the remaining one-third was attached to Central.

Most of the students will go to Central since the town of Davey was attached to that district, Dr. Turner said.

Tiemann To Attend Ed Meet

Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann will be among Nebraskans attending the Education Commission of the States' annual meeting July 7-9 in Denver, Colo., his office said Monday.

Tiemann will moderate a panel discussion on "teacher militancy." Other panelists will be representatives of the state and federal governments, classroom teachers, and school administrators.

Also on the program will be discussion of student unrest and state aid to private education.

At least three state senators — Lester Harsh of McCook, Wayne Ziebarth of Wilcox and Henry Pedersen Jr. of Omaha — will attend the conference.

The conference theme is "Partnership for Survival: Federalism in Education."

Margaret Ross Has Evening Wedding

The wedding of Miss Margaret Lynn Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Ross, and Larry P. Honeycutt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Albers, took place on Saturday evening, June 28, at the Church of the Holy Trinity, Episcopal. The Rev. Henry Burton solemnized the 7 o'clock ceremony.

Floor-length, sleeveless frocks of maize-toned chiffon, designed in the Empire mode, were chosen for the attendants who were Mrs. Maynard Schmidt of Millard, the matron of honor, Miss Kathleen Ross, the maid of honor, both sisters of the bride; bridesmaids Miss Vonna Honeycutt, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Barbara Petri, and Miss Jacquelyn Ross of Drayton Plains, Mich. Their long, crescent bouquets were of yellow daisies accented with strands of ivy.

Lonnie Honeycutt served as best man, and the groomsmen and ushers included Maynard Schmidt of Millard; Henry Chunka of Omaha; Richard Hall, Richard Faulkner, Lee Wubbles and James Mischnick of Alliance.

The bride appeared in a gown of white organza over taffeta. The Empire bodice, with its squared neckline was patterned with an overlay of Venise lace, which fashioned the full and cuffed Bishop sleeves. The lace was repeated in applique on the floor-length sheath skirt, and ornamented the aisle-wide train which extended into cathedral length. A bandeau of the lace held to the head her train-length veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of yellow and white sweetheart roses and ivy strands.

Upon their return from a honeymoon trip to Colorado, Mr. Honeycutt and his bride will reside at 1200 Washington St., in Lincoln.

The bride was graduated in May from the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Kappa Delta sorority. Mr. Honeycutt was graduated from the National Guard Officer Candidate School this year.

Town Talk

Temperamental June packed its storm clouds, its thunder and lightning and took off last night after a 30 day stay. The departure, of course, was to make way for a new month that will be around for 31 days. We only can hope that it won't be quite so tempestuous as its predecessor.

And that's our last word about weather — for the time being, that is — We have more interesting things to talk about this morning — a Thursday-to-Tuesday visitor in Lincoln, for example — a party or two — or three, and maybe just a little of this and that.

Our visitor for the long weekend is Mrs. Robert L. Grainger of Salinas, Calif., who returns home today after her brief stay as the house guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. White. While in Lincoln Mrs. Grainger also visited her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. White.

The past weekend was busy, partywise — and some of the activity was for guests.

On Sunday evening, for instance, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Moulton were a dinner host and hostess at their home when they entertained the three 'Jones boys, — and their wives. It seems that Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Jones came from Portland, Ore., last week to attend Mr. Jones' 20th class reunion (Lincoln High School), and also in town from Lawrence, Kan., and also the guests of parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Knox Jones, were Mr. and Mrs. J. Knox Jones, Jr. Since another son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. David Jones reside in Lincoln it was something of a reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jones, also.

Since we already have opened the books on a family by the name of Jones we'll tell you that Mr. and Mrs. Foster Woodruff will pay courtesy to Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Jones when they entertain at a canape party next Thursday evening at their home.

Saturday and Sunday evenings also were devoted to courtesies for Mr. and Mrs. E. Shelden Hallett — but these were farewell affairs. On Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Deeter were a host and hostess in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Hallett—

And on Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Hans entertained at a buffet supper at their home as a goodbye to Mr. and Mrs. Hallett who leave on July 5, and will be making their home in Scottsdale, Ariz.

A Happy Reunion For "Dirty Dozen"

The world is full of surprises — and sometimes they are very pleasant surprises indeed.

Just the other day we told you the story of the 'Dirty Dozen' — that group of young ladies which included some of Lincoln High School's belles 20 years ago.

In the story Saturday morning we stated that eight of the Dozen were in town for their own reunion as well as the reunion of the class of 1949, Lincoln High School.

Saturday morning even those members of the Dozen who were in Lincoln were surprised — Two more of the members walked in at the morning coffee for which Mrs. Ellis Mockett was hostess at her home when she entertained in honor of a member of the group — her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Johnson (Anne Mockett) of Franklin Lakes, N.J.

The unexpected arrivals were Mrs. Donald Hall (Adele Coryell) of Kansas City, Mo., and Mrs. Richard Rosenthal (Sandra Lotman) of Dallas, Tex. It seems that there was telephone communication from Mrs. Hall to Mrs. Rosenthal urging attendance — So, much to the surprise and delight of their fellow Dirty Dozen members — they came.

Seated on the floor are Mrs. Richard Moulton and Mrs. Johnson.

LHS Reunion

The Lincoln High School class of '59 will hold its reunion on Saturday evening, July 5 at the Lincoln Hotel. A social hour in the Terrace Room will begin at 6:30 o'clock; and the dinner-dance, which will be held in the ballroom, will follow at 7:30 o'clock.

Former Coeds Are Brides

The marriage of Miss Carol J. Wallace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Wallace, to Michael V. Kleppinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Val D. Kleppinger, was solemnized on Saturday afternoon, June 26, at St. Mark's Methodist Church.

Miss Nancy Beth Wallace, as her sister's maid of honor; the bridesmatrons, Mrs. Robert Stevenson of Laramie, Wyo., and Mrs. Gaylord Wilcox, and Miss LuAnne Kleppinger, the bridesmaid, appeared in alike frocks of dotted swiss in the maize tone and carried nosegays of white daisies.

John Bush served as best man, and seating the guests were Donald Wallace, Nile Leach, Gaylord Wilcox and Wilbur Lala.

The bride chose a gown of white Chantilly lace for her wedding. The shirtwaist bodice, fashioned with a Mandarin collar and pagoda sleeves, was ornamented with buttons from the throat to the Empire line beneath which the floor-length skirt was in the A-line silhouette mode. A lace-trimmed bow held in place her elbow-length veil and she carried a bouquet of gardenias and caladium leaves.

The bride is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where Mr. Kleppinger currently is attending the College of Dentistry.

At a 7:30 o'clock ceremony on Saturday evening, June 28, the wedding of Miss Linda M. Kahler, daughter of Mrs. Mauel Kahler, and Martin Bohac of Omaha, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Bohac of South Sioux City, took place at the First German Congregational Church.

Miss Barbara Walter, the maid of honor, and bridesmaids Miss Cathy Bryant of San Antonio, Tex., and Miss Jeanie Dietrich wore alike, floor-length, sleeveless frocks of emerald green satin and carried bouquets of white carnations.

LeRoy Orton served as best man and seating the guests were Thomas Martin of Omaha, and Gale Sup.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of silk organza and Venise lace, designed in the Victorian mode, The billowing floor-length, skirt of organza, which extended into a cotillion train, was softly gathered beneath the sculptured Empire bodice veiled with Venise lace. The overlay of lace fashioned the high collar and was repeated to ornament and cuff the Camelot sleeves.

The bride attended the University of Nebraska, and has been careering in Lincoln. Mr. Bohac is a graduate of the University of South Dakota and also was graduated from the University of Nebraska College of Law.

In Suburbia

One of the more popular songs from the Broadway play Hair says to "Let the Sunshine In," and we have the idea that this is just what the majority of the Lincoln population did during the weekend. The weekend was sunny — and warm — and for the first time in weeks it became possible for suburbanites to relax around their favorite pool, hit a few golf balls, or just work in the back yard without stopping because of a storm.

For the most part the populace hasn't let the recent bad weather interfere with activities since many suburban residents have been busy entertaining out-of-town guests, planning parties, and traveling. There has, however, been a noticeable lack of one of the more enjoyable summer activities, picnicking. So as you can imagine that with that sample of good weather lost picnic baskets were rediscovered and favorite picnic areas were remembered.

The Wedgewood manor family of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Peterson and their children Scott, Dan and Peggy were among the first weekend picnickers when they went to Burwell on Sunday for their picnic. We understand that the Petersons are planning many more picnics in the near future provided, of course, that the weather permits.

As is usual for the summer months traveling has been filling the calendar for many Lincoln residents and while some are just leaving on their summer trips many are also returning. Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Link, for instance returned recently to their Eastridge home following a 10-day vacation which they spent traveling in California.

Also included in our news of returning travelers are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gardner who returned to their Eastridge home last Sunday evening. The Gardners had spent three weeks traveling in Europe where they made stops in Switzerland, Italy and France. While the Gardners were away three of their children, Charles, Lynda and Tom, stayed at home and Rick visited his grandmother, Mrs. O. C. Gardner, and his aunt, Miss Zola Gardner in Tecumseh, Neb.

We have news today of some proud new grandparents. They are Mr. and Mrs. William Hall. Their very young granddaughter, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virnan Hall of Syracuse, N.Y. arrived on May 29. The newest addition to the Hall family has been named Susan Stephanie.

We have news of a family reunion which is being planned at the Wellington Greens home of Mrs. Robert Webb. Mrs. Webb, who resided in Lincoln for 25 years before moving to Washington, D.C. a few years ago, returned to Lincoln last August. The reunion will begin on July 2nd when three of Mrs. Webb's sons will arrive in Lincoln. Attending the family gathering will be Clifford Webb of Lafayette, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Webb of Los Angeles Calif.; and ther two children Julie and Stephen, and Robert Webb Jr. of Omaha. A fourth son is stationed with the Armed Forces in Italy. The Webb sons, all graduates of the University of Nebraska will spend a week in Lincoln.

ABBY

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I want to say a few things to those guys who refer to a divorcee as "used mechandise," or "a second hand rose with crumpled petals:"

I married a divorcee with five kids, and it's the best deal I ever made. A woman who has cooked and kept house for a family knows all the stuff other brides spend the first five years learning. A woman who has had to support a bunch of kids alone knows the value of money, too, and can really pinch a penny.

And talk about appreciation! When I carry out the garbage my old lady hugs me and says I'm the most thoughtful man in the world. When I see those spoiled. helpless, wet-behind-the-ears chicks some of my friends are stuck with, I feel sorry for them.

It takes a gal who has gone thru hell to appreciate heaven when she has it.

"LUCKY," AND KNOWS IT

DEAR "LUCKY": And so's your "old lady." Congratulations.

DEAR ABBY: I wish you would have told "DISAPPOINTED MOTHER" who was so upset because her daughter was taking birth control pills FOUR months before her wedding to relax!

That girl was wise. My doctor put me on "the pill" six months before my wedding, and I'm glad he did because it took that long for him to find the right "pill" for me. I switched from five different brands before I hit on the one I could tolerate. Three had terrible side effects. They gave me all the symptoms of "early pregnancy," . . . and I mean morning sickness and dizziness, too. Now, wouldn't that have been lovely to experience on a honeymoon?

July Bride-Elect Names Attendants

This morning Miss Carol Lawson, whose marriage to Ens. Alison E. Van Keuren will take place on Saturday, July 5, is annoucing the members of the bridal party.

For her matron of honor the bride-elect has chosen Mrs. Douglas McAdams, and Mrs. Larry Group will be the bridesmatron. In the bridal processions, also, will be Sharon Stephens who is to be the flower girl.

Robert Mawhinney of Bellevue will serve Ens. Van Keuren as best man, and David Budlik of Denver will be the groomsman. Seating the guests will be Steven Lawson of Carson, Iowa, brother of the bride-elect, and Douglas McAdams. In prenuptial courtesy to Miss Lawson and their son, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Van Keuren of Aurora, Colo., will preside at dinner at the Colonial Inn on Friday evening.

Last Wednesday evening Miss Lawson was complimented by her two attendants, Mrs. McAdams and Mrs. Group who were joined in the hostess role by Mrs. Clarence Carlson. The party, held at the First Federal Savings and Loan party room, was a linen shower.

Before the bride-elect returned to Lincoln from Aurora, Colo., where she has been careering, she was the guest of honor at a kitchen shower for which Mrs. John Johnson and her daughter, Miss Shari Johnson formerly of Lincoln, were hostesses at their Denver home.

Crime Commission Urges Expanded Probation System

Nebraska's statewide probation system should be expanded and given greater flexibility to handle increasing caseloads, the Governor's Crime Commission was advised in a report released Monday.

The report was prepared for the commission by its consultant, Harvey Perlman, a University of Nebraska law professor, and his assistant, Rodney Johnson.

The Perlman report said the 1957 probation system should be expanded because it is more economical to keep an offender on probation than in jail.

Average Cost $173

Average cost for a probationer during 1968 was $173.10 as compared with $495 that would have been required to keep him in prison for the same length of time.

However, the consultants recommended repeal of the present ten "statutory" probation districts and that the Nebraska District Judge Associations be given authority to modify the districts "for greater flexibility and more economical use of personnel."

"At the present time," the report said, "there is very little consistency between the probation districts and the judicial districts."

The consultants also recommended employment of a state probation district to aid in coordination of the statewide system and increasing the present number of probation officers from 13 to 30 as rapidly as possible "to achieve the optimum caseload of 50 probationers per officer."

Noting that only ten counties have probation officers for their county courts, the report recommended the state system be expanded to include misdemeanor cases.

Presently, state officers handle presentence investigations and probation for felony cases.

Other recommendations suggest each probation office have additional supporting services, including a fulltime secretary-clerk, and that training for probation officers include the long-range goal of quisite for employment.
a college degree as a prere-

The consultants said the 13 fulltime probation officers are currently supervising 921 probationers.

Probation officers spend approximately 30% of their time and nearly one-fourth of their budget in travel.

SAC Interrupts Work To Save A Small Girl

SUSIE . . . at hospital room door.

Omaha (AP) — Susie Q. was smiling and walking around her hospital room Monday after the Strategic Air Command interrupted its peace keeping chores to save the little girl's life.

A SAC training jet was diverted to Scott Air Force Base in Belleville, Ill., to pick up a rare globulin to counteract the 3½-year-old girl's reaction to a smallpox vaccine.

The girl, who doctors said had developed "a jazzed up case of smallpox," received the globulin about 4 a.m. Monday, some 16 hours after the hospital began a frantic search for the serum.

Dr. Charles Ginsburg, a student physician at the University of Nebraska Hospital, said the staff made telephone calls to New York, Chicago, Minneapolis, Denver and Los Angeles in an unsuccessful attempt to get the globulin.

A doctor in Colorado finally made arrangements with the Red Cross in St. Louis, which had a supply of the serum. Offutt Air Force near Omaha, headquarters of SAC, diverted a jet to pick up the globulin.

'Perfect Weather Break'

"We got a perfect break in the weather," said the pilot, Maj. Roger C. McKee of Omaha. "As soon as we landed at Offutt, the weather closed in behind us."

Susie Q's mother, Mrs. Ernest Sutherlin of Omaha, said the little girl received a smallpox vaccine June 17 but didn't start developing a rash until last Thursday.

The Sutherlins rushed her to University Hospital about noon Sunday when her condition worsened, and Dr. Paul Mooring quickly diagnosed the smallpox symptoms.

Dr. Ginsburg said smallpox cases are so rare that the hospital wasn't sure how serious her condition might become.

There was the danger for a time that she might develop meningitis or encephalitis, he said, but her condition Monday afternoon was listed as good and improving.

Not First Close Call

Mrs. Sutherlin said it wasn't the first close call with Susie Q.

"When she was a year old she got emphysema and nearly died," said the mother. "We got her to the hospital just in time.

"She's such a good little girl. She very seldom gets fussy when she's sick. When she doesn't feel well, she just wants to sleep."

Firemen's Representatives Endorse 40-Hour Week

Fire fighters union representatives unanimously passed a resolution Monday endorsing the attainment of a 40-hour work week for firemen and a $10,000 minimum salary. The resolution came at a leadership training seminar on collective bargaining being held at the Nebraska Center.

One of the nation's top authorities on union organization, however, admonished union members that the public feels firemen cannot "use the strike as a weapon to further their economic position."

Joseph P. O'Donnell, executive director of the Harvard Trade Union Program, also reminded the delegates that if such employes are held to such a limitation because of public policy, the public ought to "agree that these occupations be wage leaders rather than wage followers."

O'Donnell also commented upon the role of labor in meeting the needs of society's disadvantaged.

Young Negroes must have the same opportunity that young Irish and Italians and others had in the formative years of the trade union movement, he said.

"The rank and file is blamed in many cases for resistance, but it has been my experience that when the whole picture is described, rank-and-file members will cooperate with the leadership in making openings available to the disadvantaged."

Lay Members Named To Judicial Nominating Units

Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann Monday announced the appointment of lay members to the judicial nominating commissions for the municipal court of Grand Island and Scottsbluff.

Municipal courts were created for the two cities by LB1293 passed last month by the Legislature. The commissions will nominate judicial candidates for appointment to the bench by Tiemann.

Lay members named by Tiemann to the Scottsbluff commission were Mrs. Martha Rohrick, Leonard Henderson and Joe V. Aguilar.

Grand Island commission members named were James Wenger, Frank D. Haack and Mrs. John Higgins.

Attorney members of the two commissions will be named by the local bar associations.

Supreme Court Judges John E. Newton and Leslie Boslaugh will head the Scottsbluff and Grand Island commissions, respectively.

Swanson, Luedtke To Represent Nebraska At Legislators' Seminar

Sens. William Swanson and Roland Luedtke, both of Lincoln, will represent Nebraska at a 24-state seminar for state legislators in Naples, Fla., this month.

The siminar is sponsored by Rutgers University's Eagleton Institute of Politics and funded by a grant from the Carnegie Corp.

Aim of the conference, scheduled for July 20-26, is improvement in the functioning of state legislatures.

Sen. Harold Huges of Iowa will be among the featured speakers.

Twenty-four states will send two legislators each to the Florida meeting.

Other speakers include Jesse Unruh, minority leader of the California Assembly; Nils Boe, director of the Office of Intergovernmental Relations and former governor of South Dakota, and Dr. Donald Herzberg, executive director of the Eagleton Institute.

DUV Slates Meet

The Lincoln chapter of the Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War will meet Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at 732 So. 27th.

Are you sure you're getting the quietest compact air conditioner for the money?

Can it keep a room uniformly cool?
You get full width cooling with Westinghouse compacts. Cool air is directed across the entire width of the air conditioner to give you even, powerful air penetration. Not only that, it also dehumidifies and filters pollen, dust and other impurities from the air to provide maximum comfort.

Is it truly compact?
The Westinghouse 5000 BTU model weighs only 59 lbs.; the 6000 just 61 lbs. There's nothing lighter on the market. Both are easily installed in windows from 24 to 40 inches wide. You can carry it home and sleep cool tonight.

Is it really quiet?
Westinghouse compacts are specially designed for the quietest possible performance. With new moulded fans that move more air, more efficiently at lower, quieter speeds, and new sound-deadening construction. Cool, quiet, compact.

Will you get parts and labor free should anything go wrong?
Yes. Free parts and labor for one year, and that includes service calls, too.* Anywhere you live or move in the U.S.A. And Westinghouse backs up this Sure Service with a reliable nationwide service organization manned by over 18,000 Westinghouse trained service technicians. With a service policy this strong, our products had better be good!

Sure Service

Does it require special wiring?
No. Both the 5000 and 6000 BTU Westinghouse Compacts come in 7.5 Amp models that plug in just like a lamp.

Will Westinghouse replace the entire unit if the cooling system fails within 5-years?
Your Westinghouse compact air conditioner is so dependable it carries a full five-year guarantee. If the hermetically sealed refrigerating system should fail within five years, your Westinghouse dealer will replace the entire air conditioner at no cost.

For The Good Of The Game

New York — Burton Bad Apples, boss of bosses, tapped his silver spoon against a wedgewood coffee cup, bringing the family to order. He said: "My friends, believe me that this is for your own good and the good of the family. Before you accuse me of being harsh and arbitrary, remember that we are special people judged by special standards. This is not to point a finger, but we will begin with you, Tommy Points. Have you ever been to Namath's apartment?"

"I swear, Mr. Apples, I purposely don't even know where it is."

"What about his bar, Bachelor III?"

"Just maybe once, twice, Mr. Apples, a quick drink and to use the telephone."

'People Start Talking'

"Use the telephone," mimicked Burton Bad Apples. "You have no sense. That guy had five passes intercepted in one game last year, and the minute you drop a dime in his telephone people start talking. What's the matter with you?"

"I saw no harm," said Tommy Points.

"These days you have to see harm everywhere," said Burton Bad Apples. "And you, Harry The Fox, my sister's clever boy. I saw you on television from Miami at the Amateur Athletic Union Track and Field Championships."

"In the stands, Uncle Burton," said Harry, "I talked to no one."

"Talked to no one," sneared Burton Bad Apples. "In such an atmosphere you shouldn't take a deep breath. The pills those fellows take, some of the pole vaulters don't need poles. Someday the Narks are going to bust a track meet, and there's my sister's clever boy, Harry The Fox, sitting in the front row with his $300 stop watch. Very good for the family."

"I'm sorry, Uncle Burton."

"College Is The Worst"

"Sorry, Sorry. Now many men choke to death on that one word?" said Burton Bad Apples. "Here's my own son, Broderick, grows up in my house, learns at my knee, and the police commissioner has to inform me that he's sneaking off to basketball games."

"Only college games, Pop, and I never bet," said Broderick.

"College is the worst," said Burton Bad Apples. "The pros are pros, it's front rim, back rim, front rim, out, who knows? But the college boys, you have S.D.S. and Black Panthers and hippies, anything can happen and there's Broderick going 'sis-boom-bah'. It makes me sick. Colleges are too hot. What's with you and Philadelphia, Elvin?"

"A girl, Mr. Apples, very fancy stuff. We go to baseball games because no one would recognize her there."

"But what about you, Elvin? The baseball owners have to unload their Las Vegas hotels in a hurry, and in Philadelphia of all places there's this Richie Allen who plays when he feels in the mood. No one has a sense of responsibilty anymore.

Only Ones Following Rules

"Sometimes I think," continued Burton Bad Apples, "we're the only ones following the rules. And then I hear that Russell Twelve Toes, my dearest friend, the head of the family if anything should happen to me spent an afternoon last week at the race track."

"The bride likes to get out," said Russell Twelve Toes. "We dropped 18 bucks."

"We have islands, we have countries, Russell. Take a yacht," said Burton Bad Apples. "You go to the track and some little thief, no bigger than your 12-year-old, loses his whip on the favorite and everybody turns and looks at you and says, 'sure, sure, it's a family affair.' "

"I should have my head examined," said Russell Twelve Toes.

"It's not as easy as it used to be, you can't be sure of anybody anymore," said Burton Bad Apples. "For the family's sake, stay away from sports events and stay away from athletes."

"One thing you should know, Pop," said Broderick. "The President's been to the Kentucky Derby, a couple of baseball games, and had O. J. Simpson to the White House."

"The president's only got a few years and he wants to cram it all in," said Burton Bad Apples. "But we're forever. The public has confidence, and if you don't have a good name these days, you have nothing."

League Play Continuing On Public Golf Courses

City officials decided Monday to continue league play at Lincoln's two municipal golf courses on weekdays between 4 and 7 p.m.

The decision followed an appearance by attorney Nate Holman, who represented a number of local golfers in protesting league use of the Holmes Park and Pioneers Park courses.

Holman charged that the public should be allowed to use the two courses during the "prime time" now reserved for league play.

"It is difficult for many of our citizens to understand why only a few may enjoy almost exclusive control of these courses by virtue of personal employment, while the general public is excluded," he said.

Mayor Sam Schwartzkopf, in defending league play, said the public is ollowed to use the "back nine" holes during league play hours.

The mayor said he did not notice many golfers using the "back nine" at Holmes Park when he visited several times last week.

Holman, in asking that the public be allowed to also play the "front nines" said, "Lincoln is not a swingshift city but one where people get off work between 4 and 5 p.m. and they want to play golf at the courses."

He added that he did not think the city would lose money if the leagues were abolished.

League play has been a guaranteed source of income for courses, according to city officials.

Approximately 610 persons are presently involved in league play.

Jim Ager, park and recreation department director, said he is considering having the leagues play the "front nines" one week and the "back nines" the next.

He plans to discuss the possible change with golf pros at the two courses, he said.

Holman had suggested that league use only one course or be limited to playing only two days a week.

Ager said any limiting of league play in this manner would mean that several leagues would have to be dropped.

Spangler Leads LCC Past Omaha Visitors

The Lincoln Country Club, paced by Dick Spangler's one-under-par 71, scored 51½ points to outdistanced rival teams from Happy Hollow CC, the Omaha Country Club and Highland CC in a Sunday golf match over the LCC layout.

Happy Hollow finished second with 37½ points, with the Omaha Country Club scoring 30 and Highland 25.

Variety On Fairgrounds Racing Card

(Second of a Series)

When you visit the Fairgrounds in Lincoln — the program will include a variety of races.

Some will be short; others long. Some will be for large purses; others for lesser amounts. Entries for the races are usually made the morning of the day prior to the race. These are called "overnights" and are made available to the public by the Fairgrounds officials. They tell you a day ahead what races are scheduled for the following day.

Each morning after all entries are made, there is a draw for post position, the place from which the horse starts a race. That destroys the loser's lament that post positions are assigned by design, not the luck of the draw.

Entry blanks are placed in one container and numbered balls in another. A horseman draws an entry blank and a representative of the Racing Secretary's Office withdraws one of the numbered balls to determine the post position.

When more horses are entered than can be accommodated in the track's starting gate, these animal become "also eligible." They are permitted to race in the event a starting horse is withdrawn ("scratched").

Here are some of the races that will be on most track programs over a season:

Maiden race — For horses that have never won.

Claiming race — Here for the horses entered are subject to purchase for the amount for which the horse is enteed. Purchase is restricted to owners who have started a horse in a previous race during the meeting. The prices can range by hundred or even a thousand or more dollars. Purchase must be made prior to the race, although ownership doesn't change until after the race is run. If the horse claimed wins any money, it goes to the owner who entered it, not to the person who will assume ownership following the race.

This type of race produces competition among horses of equal ability. If a horse in a $1,200 claiming race wins a couple of races in a row, he usually is moved up in value to avoid being cllaimed. Thus he moved into tougher — and more equal — competition.

The most famous success story involving horses up for claim involves Stymie, a $1,500 claim who went on to win $918,485. Nebraska's most famous horseman, M. H. Van Berg of Columbus, has seen his stable thrive on bargain claims he has made.

Allowance Race — Usually this refers to a race in which the weight carried is determined by the amount of money and/or the number of races won by the horses entered during a specified time.

Handicap races - This is a race in which a horse is assigned a weight to carry. The weights vary according to the Racing Secretary's evaluation of the horse's potential. In theory, these weight assignments put all contestants on an equal basis.

Stake race — Originally a "Sweepstakes", this race means that owners put up fees (nominating, entry, starting) which are added to the purse paid by the track. In most stakes races, the fees paid by owners go to the winner, who also gets most of the money put up by the track. The second, third and fourth place horses share only in a percentage of the track's purse.

All races at the Farigrounds are carefully policed, including films taken of each race. These are shown stewards in case a foul is claimed, or when officials want to check on riding techniques of a jockey.

The stewards are appointed by the track and the State Racing Commission. They are the judicial body of racing and they run the races. Patrol judges, as well as the film patrol, assist them in making decisions.

The well-known photo finish also is used when a race is so close photographic evidence is required to determine the finish. These photos, once viewed by the judges, are exhibited so fans can see for themselves who won, placed or showed.

Horses at the Fairgrounds all have lip tattoos, so identification is positive. Both public and private police are engaged by track officials to assure maximum protection of the public.

Atlanta Bumps Cincy

By Associated Press

Phill Niekro, his knuckleball dancing wildly in the muggy weather, became the major leagues' first 13-game winner Monday night by pitching and batting the Atlanta Braves to a 9-4 victory over Cincinnati.

In other National League games, the New York Mets ripped the St. Louis Cards, 10-2, Philadelphia tripped the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-2, Montreal stopped Chicago, 4-2, and San Francisco upended San Diego, 6-1.

In the American League, Kansas City nipped California, 2-1, and Minnesota topped the Chicago White Sox, 7-3, while rain washed out Washington's game at Cleveland, the contest being rescheduled as part of a twi-night doubleheader today.

Niekro, who has lost five, was charged with four wild pitches, one shy of the modern major league record.

Hank Aaron's three-run homer helped stake Niekro to a six-run lead in the third inning, but the Reds retaliated with a four-run outburst in the fourth.

Niekro snuffed their comeback hopes by cracking a two-run double in the fifth after singles by Sonny Jackson and Bob Didier.

Jerry Grote's three-run nomer capped a six-run first inning explosion as the Mets thumped the fading Cardinals behind Jim McAndrew's three-hitter.

John Boozer pitched out of a bases loaded jam in the ninth inning, preserving a 4-2 victory for-philadelphia over the Pirates. It was the Phillies' seventh straight triumph.

Harmon Killebrew lashed three singles and drove in three runs as the Twins whipped the White Sox 7-3. Lou Piniella's home run with two out in the ninth inning gave the Kansas City Royals their 2-1 victory over the Angeles.

Willie Mays, Willie McCovey and Ron Hunt each drove in two runs as the San Francisco Giants whipped San Diego 6-1, pinning the Padres with their 14th setback in the last 15 games.

Exec Club, Kep Harding Elks Victors

Mike Voss and Don Mohlman combined for a one-hitter Monday night as the Executive Club defeated O'Shea Rogers, 2-1, in an Elk's League game.

In the first game, Dick Cades' three-run homer added insurance to his six-hitter as Kep Harding defeated Pepsi, 8-1.

The Executive Club moved out to a 1-0 leading in the third inning, but a single run by O'Shea Rogers tied the score in the top of the fifth.

The Execs rallied in the bottom of that inning, however, getting the winning run.

Cades' homer in the sixth inning was only insurance as Kep Harding led 5-1 at the time.

Pepsi got a single run in the first and Kep Harding matched it in the third, but four fifth-inning runs gave Kep Harding the 5-1 edge and wrapped up the victory.

Billie Jean Reaches Semis

Wimbledon, England (AP) — Defending champion Billie Jean King survived the heat and an attack of jitters Monday and joined American colleague Rosemary Casals, Australian Margaret Smith Court and Britian's Ann Jones in the semifinals of the women's singles at the Winbledon Open Tennis Championships.

Playing in oven-like 90-plus degree temperatures, Mrs. King of Long Beach, Calif., shooting for her fourth consecutive Wimbledon title, overcame Judy Tegart of Australia 4-6, 7-5, 8-6 in a rematch of last year's final.

Miss Casals of San Francisco also pulled herself together after dropping the first set and struggled for a 3-6, 9-7, 7-5 triumph over Mrs. Leslie Bowrey of Australia.

Mrs. Jones eliminated Nancy Richey, America's toptrated amateur from San Angelo, Tex., 6-2, 7-5, and Mrs. Court, the tournament favorite, ousted Julie Heldman, No. 2 in the United States form New York, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3.

The men took the day off from singles before resuming with their quarter-finals Tuesday when Rod Laver, Australia, meets Cliff Drysdale, South Africa; Bob Lutz, Los Angeles, plays Art Ashe, Richmond, Va.; John-Newcombe, Australia, takes on Tom Okker, Holland, and Clark Graebner, New York opposes Tony Roche, Australia. The semis are Thursday with the final Saturday.

The women's semis Wednesday will match Mrs. King against Miss Casals and Mrs. Court against Mrs. Jones. The final is Friday.

Mrs. Jones, Mrs. King and Miss Casals are professionals and Mrs. Court an amateur, although she, too, can pickup money here.

Mrs. King, who has had trouble with her game recently, had trouble getting started on the sun-drenched center court before a spilling over crowd of 30,000.

Mullaney Leaves Providence To Seek NBA Title For LA

. . . VETERAN NAMED LAKER COACH

Los Angeles (AP) — Joe Mullaney, a success at Providence College through 14 seasons, accepted the challenge Monday to bring a National Basketball Association championship to Los Angeles.

The 44-year-old Mullaney, a teammate of Bob Cousy when they played for Holy Cross, received a three-year contract as successor to Bill van Breda Kolff, whose clubs finished second to Boston in each of his seasons.

"My big challenge will be to win the title," declared Mullaney.

Asked how he would face the challenge of coaching Wilt Chamberlain, the new mentor replied, "I wouldn't call that a challenge. I'm looking forward to working with Wilt, Elgin Baylor, Jerry West and all the other fine players. Wilt is one of the finest ever."

In the past, the 7-foot 1 Chamberlain has sharply criticized coaches. It was no secret he had disagreements with Van Breda Kolff, who quit the Lakers after the 1968-69 season and signed with Detroit.

Tom Hawkins, a Laker last season and now a newscaster, said pointedly, "In college there is blind loyalty. In the pros the players are more challenging to the coaches. How will you handle this situation?

"I think," replied Mullaney, "by dealing with the men on a reasonable basis. I don't expect to have any real problems in that area."

Monetary terms of the contract were not divulged but there were reports it called for $40,000 per season. Mullaney had five years remaining on a seven-year pact at Providence but said the school had released him "so I can accept this wonderful opportunity."

Mullaney spent one season as a payer with Boston in the NBA and admitted, "My scoring average was eight-tenths of a point per game. When Red Auerbach took over the first thing he did was put me on waivers and Cousy came as my replacement."

—MILER TO REST—

Ryun Cancels Out On Track Season

Miami, Fla. (AP) — Jim Ryun said Monday he will cancel a European trip and all further track and field competition for the remainder of the year.

Ryun's announcement came a day after a mental collapse in the AAU Track Championship mile run here. For the fourth time this year, Ryun, a 22-year-old Kansas, walked off a track and failed to finish a major race.

"I haven't decided on retirement," the mile record holder said. "But this could have been my last race. Right now, I think it's just better to go home and let the desire build up."

Ryun had planned to leave Monday for Zurich and West Berlin.

Ryun said he and his wife, Anne, spent a "lot of time last night discussing whether or not I should go. But I think for the moment this is the right decision.

"It will be the first summer I will have stayed at home or haven't trained in eight years, I'll get to know my wife again."

Ryun said he suffered the same mental letdown here that he experienced in the Drake Relays.

"I was physically ready to run. I can't explain it," he said. "It just seemed that I wasn't running at the peak of my confidence."

The great miler completed less than half of the four laps in the AAU meet here Sunday.

"I'm discouraged because I've put a lot of work in," Ryun said. "There are some things I'd like to do now.

"And one of these things is just to sit back and think seriously about my future."

Shea led off the fourth for Gerry's with a single and then stole second. He moved to third on Rick Grell's infield hit and scored the only run of the game on an error by the Beatrice shortstop.

Nick Fras struck out eight, while walking only three for Gerry's.

John Loudon's two-run double was the big blow for Witt's in the fourth as it came back from a 5-4 deficit.

Ashe's Banning Called Tragedy

. . . SOUTH AFRICA'S MOORE SEES CHANGES

Wimbledon, England (AP) — Ray Moore, one of South Africa's top tennis players, described the banning of American Negro Arthur Ashe from the South African championships as a "tragedy."

The American Davis Cupper and his country's No. 1 player, revealed Sunday that he was barred from the South African championships.

He elaborated on the affair in an interview Monday, saying:

"I applied to play in the South African Championships in March. My entry was accepted by the South African Tennis Union.

"Then the South African Tennis Union took my application to the powers that be and I was told that I would not get a visa."

Ashe added: "Personally I did not apply for a visa. What was the good when I was told that I wouldn't get one anyway."

Ashe, fifth seed for the Wimbledon championships, knocked out Pancho Gonzales to reach the quarter-finals of the men's singles.

The American was asked how he would feel if the South Africans qualified for the Davis Cup challenge round against the United States.

Would he play?

"That's a difficult one to answer at the moment," he replied. "I shall have to wait and see. It's something we would have to discuss."

Ashe, like Moore, is a member of the newly formed International Tennis Players' Association.

There have been moves to expel South Africa from both the Davis Cup and the International Lawn Tennis Federation because of the country's apartheid rules.

A Players' Association official said there was "unanimous condemnation of apartheid and sympathy for Ashe's views" at the meeting. However the association decided by 19 votes to 17 not to issue a statement.

Two other South Africans, Bob Hewitt and Cliff Drysdale, belong to the association.

Moore, discussing the controversy, said: "The ban on Ashe happened three months ago. Since then there have been some changes. I don't want to say anything that could jeopardize further changes.

"As you know the South African government is allowing Moore to play on the New Zealand rugby union team in South Africa. That's a step forward.

"The South African championships go on again next March. I think the South African government will see what it can do then

McConaughy Yields Two New State Marks

There was plenty of fishing excitement at Lake McConaughy near Ogallala this past weekend as two new state fishing records were set.

Carrol Roberts of North Platte landed a 3-pound, 3-ounce striped bass to capture the new record for that species, while Ed Betz of Scottsbluff boated a 1-pound, 9-ounce kokanee salmon which is the state's second verified catch of kokanee and surpasses the first catch by 4½ ounces. The former striper record was 2 pounds.

A relative newcomer to Nebraska, the striped bass is showing up more frequently and shows excellent promise as a fine game fish. Punk Scolling and Keith Davis both of North Platte, also landed stripers this past weekend that weighed in at 1 pound, 15 ounces, and 1 pound, 14 ounces respectively.

Ak Windup Features 2 Big Events

Omaha — The $40,000-added George Brandeis Memorial Handicap and the $25,000-added Ak-Sar-Ben President's Cup Handicap climax the final week of racing at Ak-Sar-Ben.

The Brandeis, which will highlight the Fourth of July program Friday, is for three-year-olds and up at a mile and one-eighth. Top-weighted for the feature is Mrs. Raymond Bauer's Vale of Tears.

Vale of Tears has won the last two Cornhusker Handicaps and is the defending champion in the Brandeis. Racing Secretary Harry Krovitz has asked Vale of Tears to carry 129 pounds. including Ak-Sar-Ben's top jockey, L. J. Durousseau.

Judge Kilday, owned by Robert F. Roberts, is on the grounds ad is expected to be the No. 1 challenger. Judge Kilday has been assigned 120 pounds.

Miracle Hill, owned by T. A. and J. E. Grissom, is back in Chicago, but he is expected to return for another shot at Vale of Tears. Miracle Hill was fourth in the recent Cornhusker. He has been assigned 116 pounds.

Romanullah, runner-up to Vale of Tears in the Cornhusker, has been assigned 112 pounds.

The President's Cup, to be run on Saturday, brings back the top three-year-olds on the grounds. Topping the list is Might, winner of last Saturday's $40,000-added Omaha Gold Cup.

Marian H. Van Berg will probably have two contenders — Rush Date and Golden Space. Rush Date finished second to Might in the Gold Cup.

Also to be considered is Bravoria, owned by Eileen Cascio of Bellevue and Dorothy Johnson of Omaha. Bravoria was the Gold Cup favorite but finished out of the money after drawing high impost 131 pounds.

Durousseau scored 13 victories last week to give him 70 for the meeting, 11 more than the record of 59 he posted in winning his first championship last year.

Van Berg has 33 victories, four more than the record he posted a year ago. For Van Berg it will be his 11th straight trainer's title.

Educator Maintains Student Action Should Be Channeled Off Campus

"The central objective of a school or university is to study every possible question but to fight for only one cause: freedom of inquiry and openness of thought," an Illinois school superintendent declared here Monday.

Dr. Scott D. Thomson, superintendent of the Evanston Township High School, told a secondary education forum at the University of Nebraska that a "delicate line should exist between discussion on the one hand and action on the other."

Students should become involved in a discussion of crucial issues, such as the military draft, but they should not organize on a campus as active proponents or opponents of a law with the objective of politically affecting the law, Thomson asserted.

Educators, he said, should find the "fragile line" between ideas and action on community affairs and "provide channels to outside organizations for those students who want active involvement in the promotion of causes."

According to Thomson, the implementation of "building a new social order" is the "job of the larger community and a task with which schools cannot become involved and still maintain their special atmosphere of free thought and security from political pressures."

"To assign to the school campus open programs of action could result in a disastrous sequence of events against reflective thought and would give opportunity for manipulating youth for any cause," he emphasized.

However, pointing out that "today's student wants action," the Illinois superintendent said that schools do have a responsibility to help interested students become involved "with a full range of ideas at school and to become personally involved out in the community off the school campus."

Among Thomson's suggestions on ways that schools might take the initiative in involving students constructively was the employment of a coordinator of volunteer bureaus to match interested students with opportunities for service in the community.

He also suggested that schools provide an "open microphone," restricted to students and teachers, for speaking out on issues and sponsor the appearance of controversial speakers.

Other possibilities, he said, include a day of student-planned curriculum at school, mini-courses on general interest subjects for no credit or grades, overnight retreats of students and adults to establish candid communication, courses in comparative religion and school finance and student advice on school committees.

A dozen high school students preceded Thomson's address on student activism with comments about their concerns in high schools.

Most of the student statements centered around the role of a student council in a school and the honesty of the curriculum in terms of history, such as black history.

SOLUTIONS

Teachers must find solutions "for the violent problems that have students rebelling and minorities seething," George D. Fischer, above, told a news conference Monday. Fischer, 43, of Des Moines, Iowa, president of the National Education Association, spoke at the opening of NEA's 107th annual meeting.

Apollo 8 Pilot To Visit Soviet Space Center

New York (AP) — Astronaut Frank Borman took off for Moscow Monday on his second trip in as many months to a Communist country.

At Kennedy Airport Borman said he did not know what itinerary was planned for him, or whether it would include any Soviet space centers.

However, The New York Times quoted reliable sources as saying the astronaut would visit the Russian space center in central Kazakhstan.

The Times said Borman would be only the second Westerner to view Soviet launching facilities. Former French President Charles de Gaulle visited the space center at Baikonur July 25, 1966.

Borman, 41, was accompanied by his wife, Susan, and their two sons, Frederick, 17, and Edwin, 15. They said they were going as tourists, although they were invited by Soviet Ambassador Anatole Dobrynin on behalf of the Institute for Soviet-American Relations. Borman, who commanded Apollo 8, the first manned spacecraft to orbit the moon, visited Frague last month.

In Washington a space agency spokesman said Borman expressed an interest in talking to people in the Soviet space program, and got a favorable response, but no promise of a visit to a launch site.

The spokesman said that when Dobrynin invited Borman, he asked what Borman would like to do.

The astronaut replied he hoped to have an opportunity to talk about space matters with Soviet spacemen, and Dobrynin responded favorably to the idea, the NASA spokesman said.

Command At Navy Center Is Changed

A change of command ceremony was held at the Naval Reserve Training Center Monday in conjunction with the presentation of the Navy Achievement Medal to a Lincoln man.

At the change of command ceremony, Commander Sanford H. Nelson assumed the duties of group commander from Capt. Charles F. Clifford.

Nelson, a Lincoln native, has been with the Navy since 1948. The principal at Prescott School, he and his family reside at 5930 Meadowbrook Lane.

The Navy Achievement Medal was presented to Seaman Thomas B. Hart for heroic achievement while engaged in assault operations in the Mekong Delta last October. Hart is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hart of 1924 No. 67th St.

Retirement ceremonies were also conducted Monday for Commander John I. Foster, executive officer of the University of Nebraska Naval ROTC Unit.

Commander Foster, who received the Distinguished Flying Cross for action in the Battle of Midway during World War II, has been with the Navy for 33 years.

Lincoln Man, 24, 'Serious' After Car-Cycle Crash

A 24-year-old Lincoln man was listed in "serious" condition at Bryan Memorial Hospital Monday following a car-motorcycle accident at Holdrege and 23rd Sts.

Police said Warren D. Petersen of 1830 E St., operator of the motorcycle, received possible heart contusions and a fractured left ankle in the mishap.

Right To Trial By Jury Relinquished By Pope

Chappell (AP) — Convicted bank robber-killer Duane Earl Pope has relinquished his right to trial by jury and has chosen instead to be tried by a judge or judges — without a jury — on murder charges pending against him in Deuel County.

The charges stem from a 1965 bank robbery of the Farmers State Bank of Big Springs, during which three bank employes and officials were shot and killed, and a fourth was crippled.

Prosecution on the state charges was initiated here after the death sentence given the 25-year-old Kansan on conviction in the Federal District Court in Lincoln was traded for a life sentence under a U.S. Supreme Court ruling. The state charges could result in a new death sentence.

Filed By Attorneys

The new "waiver of jury" was filed in the Deuel County District Court Monday by Pope's court-appointed attorneys, former Nebraska Gov. Robert B. Crosby and University of Nebraska law professor Wallace M. Rudolph, both of Lincoln.

The document said Pope "is fully aware that he has an absolute right to be tried by a jury" in connection with criminal charges against him in the four cases pending in the Deuel County District Court, and understands that the right to trial by jury is guaranteed to him by the U.S. and Nebraska constitutions.

The document said Pope has visited at length with his attorneys on the question of whether or not he should waive his right to trial by jury, and in making his decision has not been "guided or influenced by any promises or assurances as to what might happen to him if he is tried by a judge or judges without a jury, or what might happen to him if he is tried by a jury."

Pope's decision to waive jury trial "is final regardless of whether his trial is to one judge or to more than one judge," the waiver said.

The death sentence for Pope was ordered by a Federal District Court jury before whom he was tried in Lincoln late in 1965. On an appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court, however, the death penalty provision in the federal bank robbery law under which Pope was tried was found to be unconstitutional, and Federal District Judge Robert Van Pelt substituted a life sentence for the death penalty.

Pope, reared on a Roxbury, Kan., farm, was convicted of fatally shooting Andreas Kjeldgaard, Glenn Hendrickson and Mrs. Lois Ann Hothan, and crippling Franklin Kjeldgaard, while robbing the Big Springs bank of about $1,600, just five days after Pope's graduation from McPherson (Kan.) College.

Richard Merrill Has Fatal Attack At Scout Camp

An employe of the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co., Mr. Merrill was a member of Telephone Pioneers Association.

Stock Market Finishes Higher

New York (AP) — Getting a boost from selective buying, the stock market turned in a winning performance Monday, although volume for the session was the lowest since late March.

"It was a pretty good session for a Monday," an analyst said, as the Dow Jones industrial average got off on an upbeat and stayed there until the end, closing up 3.43 at 873.19. The session was the first in which the DJI finished with a gain since last Tuesday, when it closed up 6.34.

The market has fallen sharply in recent weeks — the Dow industrial for example, has declined steadily since reaching its 1969 high May 14 of 968.85 — and is considered in a very oversold condition by some analysts.

Volume on the New York Stock Exchange totaled 8.64 million shares, the lowest since March 24 when 8.12 million shares were traded. It compared with a turnover of 9.02 million shares Friday.

Gains led losses throughout. Of 1,533 issues traded, 740 advanced, and 512 declined. There were five new highs — set by Amerada-Hess, Amerada-Hess preferred, IBM, McQuary-Norris, and Transcon Lines when issued — and 148 new lows.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was up .9 at 311.1, with industrials up 1.7, rails off .4, and utilities up 1.3.

Thirty-two blocks of 10,000 shares or more were traded on the Big Board, compared with 54 Friday.

Although not the most-active, Natomas turned in the most dramatic showing of the 20 most-active issues on the Big Board as 11 advanced, 8 declined, and 1 was unchanged. Natomas, third most-active on 161,900 shares, jumped 17½ to 115.

A Natomas spokesman said the only cause to which he could attribute the rise to was possible speculation over the testing of the company's third offshore Indonesia oil well. Successful testing of its first two wells drew investor interest to Natomas earlier this year.

Anaconda, most-active on 178,900 share was off 2⅝ at 3⅛. Chile plans to take over two of the company's copper mines in that country.

Prices generally were higher on the American Stock Exchange.

The Amex index gained 14 cents to $27.89.

Volume was 3.46 million shares — the lowest since March 12 — compared with 3.66 million shares Friday.

Fed Steers Turn Strong To Higher

Omaha (AP) — Reduced unloadings backed up a modest recovery effort in the slaughter cattle trade Monday.

Bidding was fairly active and values on fed steers and heifers turned strong to 25 cents higher. Some sales looked as much as 50 cents better than last midweek, although this was the exception to the rule.

The tumbling carcass beef market also righted itself on early rounds Monday. Actually, the market turned around on the close Friday and continued into Monday at Omaha with a mostly 50 cent advance on choice steer beef and all heifer meat.

Cows, meanwhile, turned away from late-developing strength noted last week to a steady to 25 cent lower market Monday. Supplies were ample for demand. Bulls fended weak also.

Feeder cattle values firmed slightly after last week's decline.

Beef steer top settled in at 33.75 for two loads of choice to prime 1,000-1,194 lb. weights. Most choice beeves 32.00-33.50, latter including strictly high-choice 1,150 lb. weights.

Some 10 loads of choice to prime heifers ranging 950-1,050 lbs. grouped at 33.25-33.75, load around 1,025 lbs. at top figure. Bulk choice 31.50-33.00, mixed good and choice over 800 lbs. 30.50-31.50.

Good to choice 850-1,025 lb. feeder steers went out at 31.00-32.00. Few good to choice 650-750 lbs. 31.50-33.50.

Moderate market supplies also sparked a rally in the hog division.

Sows ruled steady to mostly 25 cents higher. Much of the butcher advance was noted on weights over 240 lbs., with averages over 260 lbs. again rather scarce.

Bulk better 200-240 lb. butchers 26.25 26.75, some uneven weights in the group down to 25.75. Weights to 260 lbs. quoted 26.00-26.50. Sows bunched at 21.25-23.50.

Slaughter lambs sold steady, ewes steady to 50 higher. Best new crop lambs 30.50, others down to 29.00. Shorn ewes ranged upward to 9.00.

Wheat Futures Prices Decline

Chicago (AP) — Wheat futures declined 2 cents a bushel on the Chicago Board of Trade Monday under liquidation influenced by movement of the new winter wheat crop to market.

Rye futures, which historically move in the direction of wheat futures prices, also eased 2 cents a bushel. Other grain and soybeans futures, however, moved ahead, also motivated by the weather.

Trade was fairly active throughout the session.

At the close, wheat was ⅞ to 1¾ cents a bushel lower, July 1.24¾; corn unchanged to 1 cent higher, July 1.26⅜; oats were unchanged to ½ higher, July 60¾; rye was ¼ to 2 cents lower, July 1.14¼ and soybeans were ⅜ to ¾ higher, July 2.64¾.

Nixon Officials Propose Special Voting Survey

©The New York Times

Washington — The Nixon administration asked Congress Monday to authorize special surveys of the voting participation of various racial, ethnic and economic groups.

The voting rights bill sent to Capitol Hill Monday by Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell included the proposal that the voting performance of Negroes, poor people, the wealthy and other identifiable groups be tested.

Until the 1966 election, this kind of political information was estimated exclusively by private polling organizations and party officials. Since then the Census Bureau has begun to make such breakdowns. Under the new bill, it would presumably extend this acitivity.

Board Created

Such voting breakdowns would be submitted to a new national advisory commission on voting rights created by the administration bill. It would consist of nine members, who would study the effect of literacy tests on voting and "the impact of fraudulent and corrupt practices upon voting rights."

Mitchell outlined the provisions of the administration's voting rights proposal for a House judiciary subcommittee last week, but the test of the enabling legislation was not available at the Justice Department until Monday.

The language of the bill made clear the significant change proposed in the present machinery under which the attorney general or a federal court in Washington must clear state and local election law changes in the South involving voting rights. The administration bill, in effect, would made such action optional.

Present Law Repealed

The administration bill would repeal in its entirety the present law requiring a state or county that passes such a law to submit it to a court in Washington or to the attorney general before it can take effect.

Under the Nixon bill, if the attorney general discovered a state had passed obstructive legislation, his legal action against it would be brought not in Washington, but in the federal district court of the state involved.

The administration plan also would eliminated the present formula that results in the prohibition of literacy tests in seven southern states. Instead, it substitutes a nationwide ban on such tests as a requirement for voting.

Laos Asks Britain, Russia To Cooperate For Truce

©The New York Times

Vientiane, Laos — The Laotian government Monday called on Britain and the Soviet Union, co-chairmen of the 1964 Geneva conference, to cooperate in bringing about a Laotian cease-fire and withdrawal of North Vietnamese troops from Laos.

The action followed last weeks successful Communist attack at Muong Soui, one of three major government outposts in the contested northeast Laotian province of Sam Neua and Xieng Kouang.

Meanwhile, the American charge d'affaires met here with his Russian counterpart, apparently to express U.S. concern over the Communist attack on Muong Soui, which U.S. Embassy spokesman Monday called a "escallation of the Laotian war.

Communist sources have claimed that the attack at Muong Soui was in reprisal for American-backed Laotian government attacks on their territory last month.

Speaking at a news conference, Laotian Foreign Minister Khamphan Panya said his government had forwarded identical letters to the two chairmen calling for a cease-fire and North Vietnamese withdrawal. Similar Laotian protests in the past have produced no official reply from the Soviet Union.

Ag Committee Rejects Free Food Stamp Plan

©The New York Times

Washington — The Senate Agriculture Committee turned down Monday a proposal to provide free food stamps to the very poor.

The vote was 7 to 5 against a proposal by Sen. Herman E. Talmadge, D-Ga., that free food stamps be given to families with incomes less than $40 a month.

Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., who has led the fight for a liberalized food stamp program, told the committee that he expected the rejection and that he would propose comprehensive amendments on the Senate floor.

The committee is expected to complete action on a bill Tuesday and send it to the Senate before the week is over.

The committee also agreed that the Department of Agriculture should be granted the authority to set guidelines which the states would have to meet in determining who would be eligible to get food stamps.

Department officials have said the guidelines would be drawn to assure that states could not force poor people out of the food stamp program with unreasonable standards.

McKee Named To Defense Post

Washington (AP) — President Nixon has named Air Force Lt. Gen. Seth J. McKee to be commander-in-chief of the North American Air Defense and Continental Air Defense Commands effective Aug. 1, the Pentagon announced Monday.

McKee was nominated for promotion to full general, a move which must be approved by the Senate.

The Pentagon said the assignment was arranged after consultation with the Canadian government, which shares the Air Defense Command.

USS Essex Put Out To Pasture

Boston (AP) — The USS Essex, oldest aircraft carrier in the Navy, was decommissioned Monday at Boston Naval Shipyard and will be towed in a few days to its retirement birth in Brooklyn, N.Y.

The 33,000-ton ship was commissioned Dec. 31, 1942 at the Norfolk, (Va.) Naval Shipyard.

After service in the Pacfic theater during World War II, the ship was decommissioned in 1946, but modernized and recommissioned in January, 1951 for Korean War duty. She was used to recover the Apollo 7 spacecratf in October 1968.

Shannon Named To College Staff

Santa Fe, N.M. (AP) — The Most Rev. James P. Shannon, a Roman Catholic prelate who resigned as auxiliary bishop of the St. Paul-Minneapolis Archdiocese in disagreement with Pope Paul's birth control teaching, was appointed vice president of a small secular college here Monday.

Richard D. Weigle, president of St. John's College, announced that the 48-year-old bishop would begin his duties Sept. 1. He said his school was "extremely fortunate to have a man with Bishop Shannon's academic and religious background" on its staff.

Bishop Shannon disclosed last month that he had turned in his resignation as auxiliary bishop in his native Minnesota because he was unable to accept what he called "impossible standards" in the Pope's 1968 encyclical against contraception.

Murphy Heads Tostmasters

Other new officers include Roy G. Arnold, educational vice president, Bernard L. Stauffer, administrative vice president, Terry J. Johnson, secretary, David B. Beckett, treasurer, and Glenn W. Froning, sergeant-at-arms.

FBI Doctors King-Clay Wiretap Report, Civil Libertarian Says

Houston — The southern director of the American Civil Liberties Union said in a brief filed in federal court here that the FBI "deliberately doctored" a summary of a monitored conversation between the late Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and former heavywieght boxing champion Cassius Clay.

The ACLU official, Charles Morgan Jr. of Atlanta, one of Clay's attorneys, asked the court to order a U.S. grand jury in Houston to investigate.

A photostat of the summary had been filed in federal court four weeks ago in Houston where Clay is seeking to overturn a conviction for refusing to be drafted into the armed services.

In the hearing in Houston, Robert R. Nichols, an FBI special agent, testified that no report of the conversation between Dr. King and Clay had been made to FBI headquarters and that the only copy was kept in the Altanta FBI office. Nichols said he had been in charge of the FBI telephone eavesdropping on Dr. King.

While he was cross-examining Nichols, Morgan noted that the photostatic copy of the FBI summary of the King-Clay conversation appeared to have a blur on one edge.

Government attorneys promised to make the original summary available to Morgan to determine what the blur was. Last week, a clearer photostat was sent by Justice Department attorneys to Morgan.

The new photostat of the summary of the King-Clay conversation had a notation in Nichols's handwriting: "Sum up in memo."

However, in an affidavit signed June 19, Nichols said:

"When I initially scanned this log, I made the handwritten notation, 'Sum up in memo,' as a flag to myself to consider this as an item to be placed in memorandum form. Upon subsequent detailed review of the entire log and evaluation of its contents, I decided the substance of the information did not warrant the preparation of a memorandum. Therefore, to the best of my recollection, I did not prepare a memorandum summarizing this information. This fact is borne out by the absence of any such memorandum in the (Washington) file."

The new photostat of the summary of the King-Clay conversation shows a comma at the end of the summary. The photostat filed with the court in Houston four weeks ago showed a period at that place.

This, Morgan said, shows that there was more to the conversation than the FBI reported.

United Church Of Christ Adopts Black Goals

Boston (AP) — Black leaders lost out Monday in a bid for the presidency of the United Church of Christ, but they later pushed through a sweeping array of moves strengthening their influence in the church.

At their urging, the two million-member church denomination's governing assembly espoused a series of black development projects, including possible establishment of a top grade black college, black printing industries and a southern land bank to underwrite cooperative farms.

The projects resemble those outlined by black militant James Forman's movement in his demands for large scale reparations to blacks from religious bodies — a point mentioned repeatedly in debate over the proposals.

However, Mrs. Maria Kalenburg of Two Rivers, Wis., head of an administrative committee, emphasized that the actions were recommended under influence of a black ministerial group in the church, not Forman.

"We don't expect to be giving money to Mr. Forman," she said.

Winner of the presidential election in a vigorous three-way race was the Rev. Robert V. Moss Jr., a tall-quiet-voiced biblical scholar with a bent for bold initiatives.

His victory brought immediate expressions of solidarity between Dr. Moss and leaders of Negro clergymen and a youth contingent who had supported candidates against him.

Delegates stood applauding loudly as he and his strongest opponent, the Rev. Dr. Arthur D. Gray, a Negro pastor of Chicago, embraced on the platform of the assembly hall.

Dr. Moss, president of Lancaster (Pa.) Theological Seminary since 1957 and a former president of the American Association of Theoloigcal Schools, got 437 of the 719 votes cast. He was backed by an official nominating committee. Dr. Gray, backed by a Negro clergy group, got 241 votes.

Tshombe Aide: Algeria Demanded Ransom

New York (UPI) — Former Congo premier Moise Tshombe was on the verge of being ransomed from the Algerians for $10 million when he died, a close friend and international arms dealer said Monday.

Col. Hubert Julian, 72, said he was to have flown to Montreal Monday to meet a contract and hand over the ransom payment.

"I had been working on this for two years," Julian said. "Tshombe was like my son. Sometimes he called me father. He did not die a natural death. He was very healthy."

Julian said he had first offered the Algerians $2 million to release Tshombe, who was kidnaped in 1967 when a Frenchman hijacked his plane and forced it to land in Algiers.

"He (Tshombe) was going to pay it back when he got out," Julian said. "He was a rich man. He had millions in Swiss banks but of course he couldn't get it until he got out."

Julian, a wealthy arms merchant known as the "black eagle of Harlem," was expelled from the Congo in 1962 while he was in Tshombe's mineral-rich home province of Katanga.

Man Is Caught Taking Records; Implicates Others

A Lincoln man caught taking merchandise form Brandeis Department Store has implicated several other people in similar thefts dating back to July 1968, according to police.

Police say the man was seen leaving the store Monday with 18 record albums and a speaker, none of which had been purchased. A house security guard reportedly apprehended him and turned him over to police.

In subsequent conversations with police he reportedly implicated others in crimes involving the shoplifting of merchandise form Brandeis' custom sound department.

Wind, Hail And Heavy Rains Leave Crop Damage In State

By The Associated Press

Scattered locally severe wind, hail, and heavy rains over Nebraska caused crop damage in varying degrees last week, the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics reported Monday.

Wheat was turning color rapidly toward the weekend, and about 75% of the acreage was turned, 10 per cent is ripe, and limited harvesting is under way in the south central area, according to the division's weekly crop report.

Other comments:

This compares to a normal of 80%, 30% ripe, and 5% harvested.

Lodging, army worms, and weeds are a problem in some areas, and freeze damage in the Panhandle ranges from light to heavy.

Row crops, especially sorghums, have been slow developing, but greenbug populations in sorghum fields are stabilizing following spraying operations, the report said.

Corn is making good progress, but cutworms and bacterial blight are a problem in some fields. Corn rootworm infestations are present, and control measures may be necessary.

Replanting Necessary

Soybeans are making some growth, but a few fields in the northeast will be replanted because of severe weather.

Sugar beets and potatoes are making good progress, but dry beans range from just planted to various stages of development.

Freeze-damaged corn in the west has been abandoned and replanted to dry beans or short maturing corn.

Precipitation received throughout the state during the past week included:

Central
Burwell	1.36	Valentine	.85
North Platte	1.44
West
Chadron	.35	Scottsbluff	.54

Moisture via sections since the beginning of the growing season, April 1, as compared to longtime averages includes:

Northwest — 7.11 inches (1969); 7.51 inches (normal).
North Central — 4.73; 8.63.
Northeast — 8.69; 9.78.

POSTCARD by Stan Delaplane

The Irish rain pours on the wild, west coast. "Ah, it's a desperate day," said the lady in the little post office when I went up for the mail.

The village of Ballyvaughan is less than 200 people, including nearby farmers. It's an event when we (the strangers) go up to mail.

"To America," she said reading the envelope. "That'll be one and nine." (A shilling and ninepence.) "Now it goes to Galway and by the morning it's in Dublin, do you see? And off by the airplane to America."

Twice a week the traveling bank comes to Ballyvaughan. And that's an event.

The traveling bank is a truck affair. It stops in the street and the teller opens a wicket. Step up and deposit your money. The bank stays for an hour. Drives to another town.

We drove to Galway today, 25 miles across great Galway Bay. It had a great trade once with Spain.

"The ships bringing Spanish wine in casks, and Spanish spoken in the streets as often as the Gaelic," said the man at the wine merchant's. I was laying in a supply of Chablis. We can't get it in the grocery store in Ballyvaughan.

"It was a Spaniard was killed by young Walter Lynch. Him as was condemned by his own father and hung by himself. For no other would put a hand to the rope," he said.

"And you'll see the window where it all took place if you'll take the next turning to the right."

The plaque telling of this "Lynch law" is on the gray stone building.

Why did I come to Ballyvaughan, he asked? "To sharpen my wits," I said.

The shores of Galway Bay had some magic for the Irish writers.

James Joyce and George Bernard Shaw and Yeats came here. It recharged their mental batteries. They went back to Dublin refreshed.

In one of Shaw's plays, an old lady says to the writer: "I see ye've been to Galway Bay to sharpen yer wits."

There's a hangover of the Spanish wine trade in Galway I suppose. For they bring in good wines, and there are displays of Spanish sherry, warm with the sun of Andalusia.

Down near the quay there's a street called Spanish Walk.

"Now they say there was a Galwayman sailed on the first voyage with Columbus," he said. "Rice de Culvey he was called.

"A Norman name — it was all Normans in those days. The men who came with Strongbow from England in the invasion. Lynch and Joyce and all of them behind the town walls with the Irish howling like wolves outside for their blood."

Over the gate of Galway was carved. "From the fury of the O'Flaherty, may the Good Lord preserve us."
